Deputy Ouster Asked In Stormy Sessions

The trouble is lawmen's brutality, Marin City youths and adults told the county sheriff yesterday afternoon and last night.

"When the cops come into Marin City, they do it differently from the way they come into a white community," Mrs. Enid Folger, who is white and lives in Marin City, shouted at an afternoon session with Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos at the Civic Center.

The same theme was repeated frequently during a free-swinging talk session at the Marin City Recreation Center last night, at which Mountanos had deputies who patrol Marin City present.

The two sessions—both outgrowths of a Marin City delegation to the county board of supervisors yesterday—resulted in agreement for a youth committee to be formed to discuss problems with the sheriff.

Nathaniel Johnson, Marin City member of the Sausalito School District board, made the suggestion. Sheriff Mountanos agreed to hold the first meeting with the committee—which is yet to be organized—on April 20 at 7 p.m., and said he will meet with it "whenever there is something of importance to discuss."

The afternoon and evening sessions yesterday produced many complaints. And they produced one additional proposal: that Deputy Sheriff Charles Prandi be taken off patrol duty in Marin City.

"Prandi has got to go," several Negro youths declared.

Prandi was one of two deputies riding in a patrol car that was struck by a rock Monday night. Twice before, shots have been fired at his car.

Prandi and Deputy Wyman Tong arrested James Otis Ames, 17, of 69 Cole Drive as the rock thrower. That arrest set off a riot in which more rocks were hurled, deputies were assaulted, shots were fired, and a Molotov cocktail was thrown into the Marin County Housing Authority office.

Bitterness over the manner of the arrest was manifest last night.

Said Arthur Brown, chairman of the Marin City Community Action Committee:

"Otis Ames has got a lot of mouth, but there isn't anyone in the room who couldn't pick him up and carry him like a baby into a car . . . But I saw him screaming and hollering and a man had a foot in his back."

Deputies must learn to treat people in Marin City like human beings, Brown declared.

At one point during the often-stormy session, a youth said to Prandi, "I'd like you to take off your badge and gun and come outside."

However, after Prandi was called "the main instigator and object of suspicion and mistrust," one speaker said he felt Prandi "is the scapegoat for frustrations" of the youths.

Deputy Sheriff Richard Keaton said Prandi operates no differently in Marin City than elsewhere in the county. If he were taken off patrol there, said Keaton, it would give other officers

Ky Takes Troops From Da Nang; Buddhists Boycott Vote Meeting

SAIGON (UPI) —Premier Nguyen Cao Ky today removed his loyal marines from Da Nang and convened a political meeting as first steps toward solving the political crisis. But Buddhists boycotted the meeting while their students and children clashed with paratroopers in Saigon.

The United States evacuated 72 Americans from the city of Hue, leaving only a few civilians and soldiers, as 10,000 persons held an orderly anti-government demonstration to back demands the Ky government resign. Similar demonstrations broke out again in the other cities of South Viet Nam.

Buddhist leaders in Saigon closed the city's largest pagoda —an ominous move that indicated moderate leaders were withdrawing their influence over rioting youths. Melees between shouting, cursing troops and students followed.

Police stood quietly by at first and watched as the shouting students led by grim-faced monks, sacked a neutral newspaper office, piled its debris in a street bonfire. They danced wildly around the flames. The situation worsened during the night.

The students marched from Saigon's Great Pagoda to their Buddhist Institute, then headed downtown. Monks, their robes flowing as they bicycled ahead, shepherded the demonstrators through the rush hour traffic.

Although monks were present students were the leaders and they used police whistles to direct their followers whoin cluded a number of children not yet in their teens. Some of the youngsters carried anti-government banners.

Vietnamese paratroopers raced around town hunting demonstrators. In the area of the Buddhist Institute they blocked all main streets in the districts. A crowd of spectators which did not move fast enough was scattered with clubs.

The paratroopers also hurled dummy tear gas grenades to disperse another cluster of onlookers.

There was no immediate apparent reason why the student mobs sacked the newspaper. Buddhists said the students may have been inflamed by its comment that demonstrators appeared so young they could not hoist anti-government banners. But they were big enough today to hurl rocks by the hundreds.

Reliable sources said the Buddhists were interested now in a complete capitulation of the government. They pointed to the boycott of a political convention and the continued street violence as an indication of this.

Ky had ordered about 3,300 crack marines loyal to him flown to Da Nang yesterday to back him up in dealings with

Steel Growth Said Retarded By Khrushchev

COMBINED AP & UPI

MOSCOW — Nikita Khrushchev retarded growth in the Soviet steel industry, backbone of the country's military might, the 23rd congress of the Soviet Communist party was told today.

Ivan P. Kazanets, Soviet minister of iron and steel industry, said steel industry growth was lower than it could have been because Khrushchev put too much stress on rapid growth of the Soviet chemical industry.

NOT NAMED

Khrushchev was not mentioned by name in the portions reported by Soviet news media from the closed congress. But Kazanets clearly referred to Khrushchev.

Kazanets followed the lead of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin yesterday. Kosygin blamed Krushchev for some of the failures to meet 1959-65 plan targets.

Russia's top planner today admitted that the nation's economic growth rate had slipped almost 2 per cent in the past five years.

SOVIET GROWTH

Nikolai Baibakov, chairman of the State Planning Committee, told the 23rd Communist party congress that "national income" went up at the average rate of only 6 per cent compared to 8.2 per cent in the previous half decade —1956-1960.

American officials claim that the rate of Soviet economic growth is running approximately 4.5 per cent.

Baibakov blamed the trend on a "certain decline in the efficiency of social production in recent years," an apparent reference to former Premier Nikita Khrushchev's alleged bungling in economic management.

Bruce Ordered To Obtain New Rec Center

Marin County supervisors late yesterday gave County Administrator Alan Bruce authority to to work out the best arrangement he could for a temporary community center building in Marin City.

Bruce told the board such a building would be an "important symbol" in the troubled community.

He recommended that the county lease a 32-by-40-foot building for $5,000 a year, the money to be transferred from the capital improvement fund for a permanent community center in Marin City, which will not be built for about a year.

"What can people do in a 32-by-40-foot building?" asked board chairman Byron W. Leydecker.

Bruce said it would hold two pool tables.

Other board members thought Bruce could ge a larger building for the same money.

Assessment Reform Bill Wins Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today passed a bill that would impose massive reforms on California's scandal-struck property assessors' system.

Sent to the Senate on a 61-11 vote was a measure which author Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, said was spurred by the scandals that hit several assessors' offices last year.

The action came as trials of assessors in Oakland and San Francisco were under way.

What Petris termed the "keystone" of the bill is a section requiring a statewide assessment ratio of 25 per cent of the full cash value of property.

That ratio would become effective in the 1971-72 fiscal year. Until then, assessors could continue to set their own percentages, but the ratios would

Felony Complaints Filed; One-Car Patrol Is Planned

Marin County authorities today moved swiftly to prosecute the guilty in Marin City's latest violence, ease the tension blamed for it, and investigate the cause.

There were these developments:

1. Felony complaints against three Marin City youths and misdemeanor charges against two others, arising from the Monday night riot in the predominantly Negro community, were filed by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

2. Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos announced he would revert to "normal" one-car, two-man night patrol of Marin City, calling off the extra patrol which was added after a series of previous incidents of violence and arson.

3. Mountanos also announced a reshuffle of personnel which removed Deputy Charles Prandi, principal target of "brutality" complaints by Marin City residents, from patrol in that area.

4. The new Marin County Grand Jury's law enforcement committee was called into meeting at 3 p.m. to start an intensive session at request of District Attorney Bales.

Named in the felony complaints were:

Phillip Scott, 19, charged with two counts of battery — one against Deputy Prandi and the other against Deputy Carl Wiese.

Morrison Smith, 17, the same charge for allegedly kicking Deputy Fred Garrison.

Edward Boon Green on the same charge for knocking Deputy Garrison down.

Bales said he would get arrest warrants early this afternoon and request that bail be

Supervisors To Probe Negro Work Shortage

The trouble is jobs, Marin City spokesmen told the county board of supervisors yesterday afternoon.

More than half the men in Marin City are out of work, the supervisors were told. That's worse than in Watts.

Perry Howell of Marin City, chairman of the Congress on Racial Equality's employment committee and himself employed as a warehouseman, gave the figures. A skill survey made by CORE on Jan 9 showed, he said, that 51.3 per cent of the men were out of work. Among men 19 to 25 years old, the figure was 61 per cent.

By comparison, the supervisors were told the unemployment rate in Los Angeles' Watts district is 37 per cent.

There have been riots in both places—but the Watts riots have been far worse.

High school dropouts are increasing, Howell went on. Youths lose the incentive to continue school when they see that older men, with high school diplomas, cannot find jobs.

It's a pattern of frustration.

Marin City's riots may get worse, warned Walter Bremond, the county's director of community relations.

Schenley Recognizes Farm Union

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A major break in the months-long Delano grape strike came today when Schenley Industries, second largest employer in the area, signed a recognition agreement with the independent National Farm Workers Assn.

The agreement provides for recognition of the union as the sole bargaining representative for the agricultural laborers employed by the firm in Tulare and Kern counties.

The agreement also recognizes that the majority of these workers have designated the NFWA as their bargaining agent.

BOARD FOREGOES DEBATE OF WOES

A meeting of the Marin City Community Services District board set for 8 p.m. tomorrow has been cancelled.

The reason, reported John A. Thomson, secretary, is that the subjects to have been discussed including work opportunities and community center plans have already been "well aired" by other organizations this week.

County Auditor Predicts Assessment Hike Slowing

Assessed value of property in Marin will go up 9.9 per cent next fiscal year as compared to the 13.7 per cent increase this year, according to County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

Mitchell based his estimate on historical increases and on a drop in building pace. His estimate was not based on any advance information from the county assessor's office, he said.

The increase, if Mitchell is right, would put total assessed valuation of property in Marin at $471,986,000, current assessed valuation totals $429,466,950.

Under the estimated figure one penney on the tax rate next year would bring in $47,198, compared with $42,946 this year.

Mitchell made his calculations to forecast what the county tax rate will have to be to support the proposed fiscal 1967 county budget.

County Administrator Alan Bruce is expected to announce the proposed budget late next week.

Opera Star Drops Citizenship

PARIS (AP)—Opera singer Maria Callas has renounced her American citizenship in an attempt to end her marital and financial difficulties with her Italian husband, reliable sources disclosed today.

Miss Callas

Miss Callas was not available for comment. The embassy made no comment.

Miss Callas was seen in the embassy passport section by a newsman March 18.

Miss Callas, who was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., in 1923 as Sophie C. Kalos, maintains a Paris residence. Her birth in New York gave her American citizenship, but because both her parents were Greek she also has Greek nationality.

The sources said Miss Callas told the embassy she was giving up citizenship to end her marital and financial complications with Milan industrialist Giovan Battista Meneghini, who launched her on her career.

She reportedly said as an American, she is still married to Meneghini under U.S. law but as a Greek national her marriage is not recognized in Greece because she was not married in the Greek Orthodox Church.

BROWN'S BUDGET FACES NEW CUTS

Governor Asks More Money; Lawmakers Aim For At Least $20 Million Less

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Senate and Assembly leaders prepared today to make some speedy cuts in the new, bigger - than - ever, $4.64 billion California budget submitted by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Chairman George Miller Jr. of the Senate Finance Committee predicted the upper house probably will scale down the governor's spending program to the $4.59 billion approved by the Senate last week.

And the Assembly Ways and Means Committee's chairman, Robert W. Crown, D - Alameda, told his colleagues the lower house will immediately trim Brown's latest request down to $4.62 billion.

That's what it was when it was defeated in the Assembly Monday on the final day of the legislature's first budget session. Brown's latest request is $18.5 million higher.

Assembly Republicans continued their resistance, refusing to support the budget unless the Democratic administration modified the bookkeeping change it plans to use to balance next year's books, allowing Brown to avoid asking for a tax increase.

That plan — the accrual system—comes up for hearing in the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee Monday and Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R - Tracy, said "We'll make our first points there."

Sen. Miller lost a fight Friday to modify a $15 million expenditure that had helped boost the size of the new budget.

Over his objections, the Senate gave final approval to a resolution offering the federal government state construction bond funds to buy land for an Atomic Energy Commission atom smasher that might be built in California. A Sacramento County site is one of six throughout the nation being considered by the AEC.

In other developments:

Brown hailed as a victory the Assembly's passage of a bill to give a $21 million property tax refund to some 150,000 elderly, impoverished homeowners next year. He said "I hope the Senate will follow with affirmative action."

The governor made a Democratic assemblyman angry over smog legislation. Brown tried to speed up work on new smog control bills by assigning a senator the job of carrying them.

But Assemblyman Tom Carrell of San Fernando, who had introduced the governor's bills earlier, replied that "if we have a minimum of uninformed outside interference, we might be able to get on with the job more quickly."

Troops Push Back Dixie Collegians

LORMAN, Miss. (AP) — A shield of National Guardsmen and state troopers defended the gates today at Alcorn A&M College, where tear gas clouds choked 2,000 angry demonstrators into retreat during the night.

Student protests seeking to depose Alcorn President J. D. Boyd boiled into violence again last night.

Carbines at the ready, the patrolmen stepped into the mass of Negroes when a demonstrator shoved a trooper and reached for his rifle.

The two men struggled. Another patrolman slugged the Negro on the head with a billy-club. The crowd roared.

Leaping onto the hood of a parked car, a Negro youth hurled a soft drink bottle into the face of the officer who wielded the nightstick.

Troopers pushed quickly into the crowd, lobbing volleys of tear gas grenades.

At his campus home, Boyd denied charges by Charles Evers, field secretary for the NAACP, that Boyd had suspended students who took part in civil rights work and had refused to allow students and faculty to campaign for civil rights on or off the campus.

Senator Charges Defects In Cars

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., charged today that the big three of American automaking have failed to warn millions of owners their cars had safety defects.

The charges were leveled against General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., and the Chrysler Corp.

Mondale's case histories of the charges involved 40,000 Lincoln Continentals, the 1965 model; 750,000 Chevrolet Corvairs, the 1960-63 models, and thousands of Buick Roadmasters, the 1951 model.

He also cited faults in 30,000 1965 Fords, a large number of 1965 Chryslers, Plymouths, and Dodges, and 500 1965 Buick Lesabres.

Mondale's charges followed yesterday's disclosure that G.M. was attempting to repair 80,000 1961 Pontiac Tempests.

The Minnesota Democrat has introduced legislation that would force auto makers to notify owners—not merely dealers—of safety defects in their products.

G.M. Vice President George Russell confirmed that the low slung '61 Tempest had a design problem that caused it to become hung up on elevated railroad crossings and other road obstacles.

Russell made the disclosure after auto critic Ralph Nader attacked the Tempest during Senate Commerce Committee hearings on President Johnson's proposed traffic safety legislation.

Nader's charges also led to G.M. confirmation of its attempt to modify 1.5 million 1964-65 Chevelles and 1965 Chevrolets with "power glide" automatic transmissions.

Snow and slush forming on the accelerator linkage of these cars caused the throttle to stick after the driver lifted his foot from the accelerator.

At a cost of $2 each, Russell said, GM had installed splash guards over the linkage of 31,000 of the cars.

But the G.M. official said he did not know how many 1961 Tempests had been modified. The car's front end crossmember has a pointed edge that snags on road obstacles.

Nader said that the American Assn. of Railroads had received more than 100 reports from members of Tempests becoming snagged at hilly grade crossings. He accused Pontiac of trying to curtail news of the defect.

But Russell said 19 "communications" were sent to dealers between 1961 and 1963 urging that the defect be corrected.

He also said that the press was notified about the Chevelle and Chevrolets on March 30.

Income taxes are not new. They were tried in the 19th century in England several times. They did not become a permanent tax until about 1874.

Wilson Moves Britain To Market

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson reshuffled his government last night to lay the groundwork for possible British entry into the European Common Market in two or three years, political sources reported today.

Wilson retained most of his old Cabinet and made a number of important changes on the sub-Cabinet level. He also reassigned a number of duties within the Cabinet.

He gave the task of working toward a union with the Common Market to Economics Minister George Brown, who also continues as deputy prime minister.

To assist Brown, Wilson appointed George Thomson to lead British delegations in meetings of the British-sponsored European Free Trade Assn. and other European economic discussions.

set at $1,500 each. The warrants would then be served by the sheriff's office.

Misdemeanor charges were filed against Claude Burton, 21, an apprentice in the county's job-training program, on two counts of obstructing Deputy Dennis Shine and Sgt. Edward Levine from performing their duties; and James Otis Ames, 17, with three counts.

Ames, the only person arrested at the Marin City riot, is accused of throwing an object (a rock) at a patrol car occupied by Deputies Prandi and Wyman Tong, and with two counts of obstructing Prandi, Wiese, Tong and Undersheriff Sidney Stinson from performing their duties.

Bales said, "I intend to present witnesses on the whole Marin City situation to the grand jury committee with the request that it investigate in depth and make recommendations."

He said all law enforcement officers involved in the riot, which saw some 100 Marin City youths turn out, and in which rocks, bottles, and sticks were thrown, will be asked to appear before the committee.

"I want to make it perfectly clear that violations of law will not be tolerated either in Marin City or elsewhere. We are especially concerned with attacks by citizens upon law enforcement officers," Bales declared.

Undersheriff Stinson reported no incident of violence or disturbance in Marin City last night. Ames was being held in the county juvenile hall.

Funds Assigned To Point Reyes

The Interior Department appropriations bill, which passed the House yesterday, included $1,034,750 for the operation and maintenance of Point Reyes National Seashore for 1966-67, Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, Calif., reported.

Of this amount, $342,500 is for new construction of roads and trails, Clausen announced.

The appropriation bill also includes $137,000 for Muir Woods National Monument.

Jury Trial Scheduled On Burglary Charge

Jury trial date for Earl T. Guillory, 21, jointly charged with James Hardy, 20, in the March 14 burglary of Charlie's Market at 1701 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for Aug. 15.

Guillory, of 805 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has pleaded innocent. Hardy, of San Francisco, is to enter plea next Tuesday. Both were arrested by San Rafael police who said they saw them inside the closed store at 3:12 a.m.

Rawles Back At Desk After Lengthy Illness

Norris M. Rawles has returned to work part-time as San Rafael public works director after an illness of about two and a half months.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said Rawles returned Friday. He is working about six hours daily.

Rec Session Delayed

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission did not meet last night. Commissioner Dorothy Stidham reported today. The meeting is tentatively set for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Community Center, she said.

Buddhists and rebel army units which controlled the city.

He flew home after talks with the anti-government leaders in Da Nang but left the marines there in case he decided to carry out his threat to take over the city.

At the same time Ky agreed to withdraw his strike force, Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, chairman of the ruling military junta and South Viet Nam's chief of state, convened the long-promised national political convention to draft a constitution and arrange for national elections.

Buddhists were invited but declined.

On the war front U. S. Infantrymen sweeping through the Ho Bo woods north of Saigon beat back a fierce assault and killed 28 Communists in hand-to-hand fighting, a military spokesman said today.

In the air, U.S. jets returned to the heart of the Communist war machine in North Viet Nam and struck bridges, roads, railways and shipping.

U.S. Navy bombers blasted North Viet Nam's Phuc Loi naval base for the second straight day and left buildings burning.

Company A of the 25th Infantry Division's Second battalion took the brunt of the fighting in the Ho Bo woods, a Communist sanctuary from which guerrilla attacks around the capital are mounted.

A company of Viet Cong, touching off their attack to the sound of bugles, struck before dawn.

At 4:15 a.m., about 150 guerrillas tried to storm a corner of A company's position. This came after about three hours of pecking away at listening posts and ambush patrols sent out to protect the main body of the company.

In Washington, Gen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said he would offer amendments to the foreign aid program today to channel more aid money through international groups as a means of isolating the United States from such involvement as Viet Nam.

Fulbright contended that the U.S. foreign aid program led to the present deep involvement in Viet Nam. He said he was "shocked" by what he said was Secretary of State Dean Rusk's view that U.S. aid commitments in Viet Nam justified intervention there.

Library Board Loses Chairman

Mrs. Phillip S. Haly, chairman of the Larkspur Library Board and a member of the board for almost four years, yesterday submitted her resignation "because other committments are keeping me too busy."

Mrs. Haly, who took a job in October as secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, was appointed to the library board in June, 1962.

Libarian Helen S. Wilson said city policy calls for the library board to screen candidates for the position, then recommend one or more to the City Council.

Tiburon Fire Board Studies Relocation

The Tiburon Fire Protection District board will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Tiburon Boulevard firehouse to discuss the feasibility of moving the building. James P. Jenkins, secretary, said today.

Jenkins said that because the eight-year-old building is subject to flooding during rains, a new one on higher ground is needed. He said the board will also discuss salaries of the district's eight paid men.

Woman Wants NAACP Chapter In Marin City

Mrs. Corinne Lacomble-Navarro of Mill Valley said today that she intends to open a chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in Marin City "as soon as possible."

She said she hopes to have an NAACP office open in Marin City by next week. She joined the civil rights organization yesterday, for the specific purpose of starting Marin County's first chapter, she said.

She asked volunteers to call the group's San Francisco headquarters at 948 Market Street, San Francisco.

She said one of the new chapter's first goals would be the establishment of a recreation center for teenagers.

Permits examinations of assessors' records by law enforcement agencies, county grand juries, boards of supervisors and the State Board of Equalization.

Extends the statute of limitation under which persons can be prosecuted for falsifying assessment figures from three to five years.

Marijuana Jury Trial Date Reset

Jury trial for three marijuana suspects, rescheduled in Marin Superior Court for Monday, has been reset again for July 25.

Charged in the joint indictment alleging sale of marijuana are Peter Wright Lenihan, 31, of 420 B Street, Sausalito; Ronald Keith Maska, 29, of Orange County, and Wilhelm Alexander Rossknecht, 27, of 10 Reed Lane, Sausalito.

Rossknecht, whose $4,400 bail was forfeited and a bench warrant issued for his arrest following his failure to appear for a court hearing Dec. 20, is still at large.

The three were among 11 adult marijuana suspects rounded up last June 4 in southern Marin County.

House Votes Raises For Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only one dissenting vote, the House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to give 1.8 million government employes a pay raise.

The 392 to 1 roll-call vote nailed down a preliminary voice vote of approval last Monday. The lone negative vote was cast by Rep. W.R. Poage, D-Tex.

Loch Homeowners Hear Station Plans

Directors of the Loch Homeowners Assn. last night heard a representative of Humble Oil Co. outline the firm's plans for a gasoline service station in the Loch Lomond Shopping Center.

Director Franklin Battat said the assosiation wants to get reactions of homeowners before the matter goes before the San Rafael Planning Commission.

night which started with arrest of a youth for throwing rocks at a sheriff's car, Bremond said:

"I used to say it was a very small percentage of the people venting their hate. But last night I was a frightened human being, because it wasn't a small percentage.

"We did everything in our power to prevent a race riot. We're going to have a holocaust.

". . . Over half the employable males of Marin City cannot support their families. They are saying they don't want to be castrated any more."

Lanny Berry, community consultant in Bremond's office, said he expects to receive his master's degree in June, but "when I get my degree I should go off somewhere and hide."

Walter Brown, chairman of the Marin City Community Action Committee, said that "since I wear a good suit and tie, they say I'm an Uncle Tom."

"All right, I am an Uncle Tom. I got caught up in the red tape as a pseudo-professional. But I pushed a broom for eight years at Tam High. Now I'm going through channels."

The supervisors' insistence that the contractor for the Civic Center addition hire minority race members has done little good, said Marjorie Ward, who is in charge of enforcement of the provision.

She said the contractor, Robert E. McKee Co. of South San Francisco, repeatedly broke appointments and seemed to be avoiding meeting with her.

She had six men well qualified to handle grading equipment, but was unable to arrange a meeting with contractor and union representatives until grading had started, she reported.

"It was a very unsuccessful meeting all around. It's obvious they don't want to negotiate."

Asked by Chairman Byron W. Leydecker, "Is this a question of the contractor or the unions?" she replied, "The unions first."

The board took action on that specific complaint. At suggestion of Supervisor Peter H. Behr, the item was placed on next Tuesday's board agenda with union representatives and the contractor to be summoned to attend.

Another job difficulty in Marin City was admitted by County Administrator Alan Bruce. The county's apprenticeship program for Negro youths has not panned out as hoped, he said. He blamed a lack of supervision.

The Marin City delegation, some 50 strong, attended the supervisors' meeting in the wake of the Monday night disturbance, to plead that some new approach be taken to the problems of the almost-all-Negro community.

Park Bonds Get Fairfax Support

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night endorsed the proposed $4.3 million county park bond issue, which will be put to voters June 7.

Commissioners sent their endorsement to the city council and urged councilmen to take a similar stand.

The commission held a preliminary study of its budget for fiscal 1967, but came up with no firm figures, according to Mrs. Frances Lestanguet, city clerk.

It also urged citizens to take part in "Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Weeks" May 16-29.

Youth Meeting Set

In a brief meeting last night, members of Marin Youth for Action scheduled a membership meeting for 7:30 p.m., April 19, to hear reports from study committees.

Place of the meeting has not yet been decided.

The trio consists of David Abel, violin; Bonnie Hampton, cello and Nathan Schwartz, piano.

Glenwood Group Plans Egg Hunt

Four directors of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. last night discussed the group's current membership drive and outlined details of an Easter egg hunt scheduled at 11 a.m. Saturday on the grounds of the Church of the Redeemer.

To boost the membership campaign, directors considered a plan to print a Glenwood directory, making it available to all members. No decision was reached.

Notices of the Easter egg hunt will be distributed in the area, according to Mrs. Jane Curtis, secretary. It will be open to Glenwood youngsters under 10.

Petaluma Holdup Trial Date Set

Trial of Jerry Marvin Sager, 31, of Novato on a charge of armed robbery of a Petaluma gas station was set today for May 16 in Sonoma County Superior Court, Santa Rosa.

Sager has pleaded innocent to the robbery, in which a masked man with a hand in his pocket took $200. He was arrested in Novato March 24 in a car which fitted the description of that used by the bandit.

He lives at 7350 Redwood Highway, Apt. 5.

Nuclear Device Exploded By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nuclear test explosion of low yield, with a force less than 20,000 tons of TNT, was set off underground today at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

The blast is the 11th weapons-related test this year and the 68th since the nuclear test ban treaty became effective in August, 1963.

MEETING

the feeling, "if they can do that to Prandi, they can do it to me."

Sheriff Mountanos said he will back his officers when they are right, and wants to hear about it when they are wrong.

"What's going to happen to the officer that hit the kid with the billy club?" one youth asked.

"Where's the bad one who pulled his gun," asked another.

"You are all hypocrites," asserted a third.

Mountanos said anyone has the right to bring anything relative to his arrest into court, and is innocent until proved guilty.

A youth replied: "You people run the courts."

Several complained of "too many officers" at the Monday night rioting, at which the sheriff's department called for aid from eight police departments.

One youth said: "I ran up the road and five cops threw me down. For what? I believe that was planned. There were too many cops there too quick."

There can be just one patrol car and two deputies in Marin City at night "if everyone works together as a team," replied the sheriff.

The afternoon session started behind closed doors, but reporters were admitted after Mountanos and the residents could be heard shouting at each other. The talk was quieter thereafter. Last night, some of those present objected to reporters and cameramen.

"We've had a bad press and bad reporting, and this has helped the situation to grow," asserted Brown. "I'm tired of it being called another Watts. It's Marin City."

Museum To Host County Officials

Fifteen county officials, including the Marin County Board of Supervisors, will spend their lunch hour Tuesday at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael as the start of a museum program to invite local civic groups to visit its facilities.

On Wednesday, the San Rafael Lions Club will have lunch there. After that, reports museum director Clara Evans, the museum plans to invite one service club to visit each month.

Pair To Stand Trial On Holdup Charges

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday scheduled for Sept. 12 jury trial of Paul E. Bradley, 21, and Thurman Levi Thompson, 36, both charged with armed robbery.

Bradley, of 103 Redwood Road, and Thompson, of 88 Rocca Drive, both of Fairfax, allegedly used a knife to rob Harold E. Pennington at Standard Service Station, 7417 Redwood Highway, Novato, of about $75 cash Jan. 8.

Tam Improvers Plan To Attend Hearing

There will be no monthly meeting of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club tomorrow night because of the meeting that same night of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission at 7:30 p.m. in the Civic Center.

The commission is to consider a request from the improvement club that a community services district be formed to handle recreation and sanitary needs of the Tamalpais-Tennessee Valleys.

Phone Book Halt Asked In Ad Suit

A plumbing contractor, new in Marin County, has filed suit to prevent Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. from distributing a new phone directory tomorrow because his advertisement was left out of the yellow pages.

Robert Conway, of 51 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, filed suit in Marin Superior Court seeking preliminary and permanent injunctions preventing the defendant from publishing and distributing the April, 1966, issue of Marin County telephone directory unless it includes his quarter-page ad.

He alleges that on Feb. 14 he entered a contract with Frank Frates, a salesman for the directory advertising, to place the ad of his firm, Del Rey Plumbing Co. for a monthly charge of $40.75.

Conway, formerly of Santa Cruz, charges subsequently Frates and the company assured him that although his ad proof had been delayed, the ad would appear in the issue.

On April 1, however, according to the suit, he was notified that a clerical error prevented its inclusion.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson scheduled 2 p.m. Wednesday for the telephone company to show cause why the injunctions should not be issued.

Kindergarten Signups

Mill Valley School District will accept pre-registration of children who will enter kindergarten in September, on April 19 and 20 at all schools in the district except Edna Maguire between 9 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. and 1 and 3 p.m. Proof of age must be provided and a child must be four years, nine months old on or before Sept. 1.

Boston Expected To Get Papers

BOSTON (AP) — The two unions that forced five Boston newspapers to suspend publication a month ago have voted to accept $16.30 in wage increases over a three-year contract and to end their strike.

The printers voted 746-340 yesterday and the mailers 158-31 to ratify the agreement negotiated with the publishers.

The vote paves the way for an early resumption of publication but Bostonians will have to wait a little while longer for their newspapers.

Nine other newspaper craft unions whose members were idled by the printers' and mailers' strike, must now meet to decide whether to accept the same offer.

State Asked For Highway Safety Moves

Marin County supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution asking the State Division of Highways to construct either an underpass or overpass for pedestrians and cyclists at the intersection of Tiburon Boulevard and Strawberry Drive, where Robert Scholz, 8, was killed March 21.

As interim measures, the supervisors asked the state to consider reduction of the speed limit from 45 to 35 miles an hour, elimination of the most westerly crosswalk on Tiburon Boulevard, painting all crosswalks at the intersection yellow, establishing a delay period between the beginning of the red light on the boulevard and the "walk" sign for crossing the boulevard, and assigning an adult crossing guard at the intersection.

The resolution was prepared after supervisors heard from Strawberry residents and received a petition and several letters prompted by the accident, urging that something be done.

Mount Diablo is used as "base and meridian" for surveys from the Oregon line to the Tehachapi mountains and from the Pacific Ocean to the Nevada-Utah line.

Supervisor Oyster Dislike Stymies State Fair Exhibit

Marin County supervisors may have no state fair exhibit.

In a discussion late yesterday, the county board of supervisors repeated disatisfaction with this year's proposed exhibit — Tomales Bay.

The exhibit was proposed originally as a display showing the oyster production in the bay. Supervisors insisted this be more general.

Discussion yesterday was prompted by a request for approval of a $3,000 contract with Pope Valley artist Kenneth Gaffney for preparation of the exhibit.

"If it's going to be oysters," Supervisor Peter H. Behr said, "It's not going to get my vote." Behr, who missed the earlier discussions, was told there might be a few oysters.

"It's all ridiculous," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen declared.

Supervisors seemed about ready to vote the entire project down, but they decided, out of a fairness to those working on it, to put off decision until next Tuesday.

GOP Plans Forums On Urban Problems

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican leaders are planning to send out a task force to hold "citizens' forums" throughout the nation on urban and suburban problems.

GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan told a news conference yesterday the forums would begin at Minnesapolis April 16 and run into August. He said they would emphasize transportation, pollution, housing, schools, job opportunities and other problems.

Three seniors have been named to represent Terra Linda High School in the April 14 Bank of America zone contest at College of Marin.

They are Richard Honey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Honey of 880 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael, who will compete in the fine arts division; Rhonda Brummett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Brummett of 336 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, in the vocational arts division; and Robert Hempton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Hempton of 711 Butternut Drive, Terra Linda, in the science and mathematics division.

Students, to be judged on their showing in round table discussions, will be competing for cash awards and the chance to compete in finals in San Francisco May 12.

Guilty Plea Given To Reduced Charge

Hilario Ferreira, 27, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to an amended complaint charging petty theft. He will be sentenced April 26.

He originally was charged with grand theft. Corte Madera police said he stole three men's suits from Montgomery Ward and Co. on March 24.

India, Viet Nam Give Rusk No Problem At Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk wondered if his ears were betraying him.

With Rusk in the witness chair the Senate Agriculture Committee approved President Johnson's food relief program for India so fast he almost wasn't asked a single question about Viet Nam.

It was not until within 10 minutes of the hearing's end that the subject of Viet Nam came up.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, wanted to know if any of the ships that would carry the U.S. wheat, cotton, corn, vegetable oil, nonfat milk and tobacco to India would be from countries dealing with North Viet Nam. Rusk said, "In general, the answer to your question is no."

When Ellender brought the hearing to a close barely 40 minutes after it began, Rusk seemed a mite surprised.

"If my ears did not betray me I thought I heard that the committee had voted," he said.

Ellender assured him the committee had voted.

Ear Strokes Can Terrify With Sudden Dizziness, Other Woes

VAN DELLEN

"What is ear stroke? Several weeks ago I suddenly became so dizzy and nauseated my physician hospitalized me. My left ear began to roar and I became deaf on that side. The condition is improving although I'm still afraid to move my head because it makes me woozy."

In ear stroke the blood supply to the labyrinth of the inner ear is blocked by a clot or hemorrhage. True dizziness (vertigo) develops immediately and is associated with the symptoms mentioned above. The condition subsides gradually in two to four weeks although mild residual vertigo may remain for several months thereafter.

TRUES VERTIGO stems from a disturbance of the equilibrium centers in the ears or brain. Almost everyone has experienced this type of dizziness by rolling downhill or turning around and around while in a standing position. When the eyes are closed, the individual feels as though he was whirling in space; when the eyes are open, the world turns about him. The victim may suddenly fall or staggers about as though drunk. Obvious cause include ear infections and mastoiditis. Viruses, alcohol, and drugs such as barbiturates, quinine, and streptomycin have have a toxic effect on these centers.

Meniere's syndrome also involves the balancing mechanism of the ear. The symptoms ore similar to "ear stroke" except that the attacks last an hour or more, subside, and then return when least expected. Drugs that improve circulation and reduce fluid retention in the ear are helpful. Ultrasonics or surgery are used when symptoms persist and the victim is becoming hard of hearing.

THERE ARE many causes of vertigo. Some become dizzy when the head is turned to the left and right or upwards, as when looking at an airplane. Arthritis of the neck is responsible in some. In others, the circulation to the brain is disturbed because certain blood vessels in the neck are strangulated by misplaced tendons whenever the head is turned. Special X-ray studies are needed to make these diagnoses.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics, if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ANEMIA, PREGNANCY

Mrs. F. writes: What effect would anemia have on pregnancy?

REPLY

It lowers resistance and causes fatigue. It also affects the youngster who comes into the world with an inadequate supply of iron. This is an undesirable situation becaues it is difficult to make up the deficit since milk contains little of this mineral.

I. Z. writes: How long does it take for a cataract to become ripe enough to operate?

REPLY

Eye surgeons no longer wait for the cataract to ripen but recommend surgery as soon as vision becomes so poor the victim is unable to perform ordinary tasks.

Union Leader Killing Called 'Assassination'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "This was an assassination," says a union business agent about the shotgun death of Dow Wilson, 40, bearded and militant leader of a painters' union local.

Wilson, killed on a San Francisco street yesterday, was shot three times and police say they have no clue concerning his killers.

He was secretary of Local 4 of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, which posted a $10,000 reward for a solution to the crime.

Morris Evenson, a business agent for the local, declared it was an assassination and added: "It looks to me like a paid operation."

The local, Kirvin continued, was disputing with the union's international leadership about the locals' independence.

The shooting occurred a half block from the San Francisco Labor Temple, where he had attended a meeting earlier.

Memorial services will be Friday at 7 p.m. in the Labor Temple.

Wilson Pushes Oil Embargo

LONDON (UPI) —Prime Minister Harold Wilson today stepped up his diplomatic offensive against Greece and Portugal to prevent vital shipments of oil from reaching white-ruled Rhodesia.

He was reported considering whether to seek a U.N. mandate for a naval blockade of Portuguese Mozambique.

One Greek-owned tanker, the Ionna V, dropped anchor at Beira, Mozambique, yesterday and another, the Manuela, was reported steaming toward the port through the Mozambique Channel today.

House Holds Anti-Bird Line, Defeats Art Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House refused yesterday to provide more money for a program to discourage bad birds than for one to encourage struggling artists, poets and dancers.

It defeated a move by Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, to knock out a $7 million appropriation for the new National Foundation for Arts and Humanities, or add an extra $1 million to a $635,000 for bird control.

The bird bill is aimed at eradicating the costly problems of starlings, blackbirds and other flying pests which eat up more than $50 million in crops annually.

The arts money will be used to encourage new theaters, regional orchestras, dance companies, poets and painters as part of a national culture crusade.

Other congresstional news:

Space: The House Science Committee settled the last item in a $5 billion space program yesterday by approving a $9 million laboratory in Houston to quarantine men and materials returning from the moon.

Water: The Senate passed and sent to the White House authorization to spend $85 million for water research over the next 10 years.

Tests: Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., introduced legislation Tuesday to restrict the use of psychological tests dealing with sex and religion under federal auspices or with federal support.

Six Novato Candidates To Be On Air

Six candidates for two seats on the Novato City Council in the April 12 election will appear at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board."

The six, none of whom is now on the council, are Joseph Bonomolo, Helen Greving, Wayne C. Hathaway, Betty Machado, Harley A. McAskill and M. E. (Babe) Silva.

They are competing for the seats left vacant by Mayor Robert D. Carrow and Councilman Lucille Cannon, who declined to run for re-election.

Listeners may call in questions during the hour-long program, which will be tape recorded for re-play at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

This will be the last of the program's series featuring candidates from various cities in Marin.

Indecent Exposure Reported In Novato

A man exposed himself at the top of the stairs of the two-story Wright Building at 1305 Grant Avenue in downtown Novato Monday noon, Novato police reported.

The man was seen by three young girls and two women. The latter called the police.

The man was described as tall and thin, with a thin face and light hair. Police searched the building and area but could not find him.

Taxpayers To Meet

Directors of the long-dormant Marin County Taxpayers Assn. will meet at 8 p.m. April 14 in the jury room on the third floor of the courthouse annex in San Rafael, according to president P.J. Rowland.

Drunk Test Bill Change To Be Asked

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, will seek to amend a Senate bill which would require a motorist arrested on suspicion of drunken driving to take a chemical test or lose his license for six months.

The bill in question is SB 3, by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

"Under the bill," said McCarthy, "a person arrested on a charge of drunken driving by a peace officer must yield to a test. He has an appeal, but if the appeal is turned down, he loses his license for six months.

"If this driver is later acquitted in court, he still loses his license for six months. I think that is a serious infringement on the rights of the motorist. If the court or jury finds a man not guilty, his license should be restored."

The Marin senator said he is preparing amendments to correct the defect.

Tuberculosis Hits Five Marinites

Tuberculosis struck five Marinites last month, the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. reported today.

The March cases bring this year's total to 15, nearly double the 1965 three-month total of eight.

In addition, three relapsed cases have been reported so far this year.

Three of the March cases occurred in San Rafael, where five cases were reported earlier this year. Residents of Mill Valley and San Anselmo are the other new patients.

Of the new patients three are men, ages 57, 51 and 72. The women are 46 and 76.

'Food, Lodging' Sign Rejected

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested yesterday that the county allow off-site signs indicating "food and lodging" but not promoting any individual business.

Other board members thought the idea had merit, but did not agree with Kettenhofen's ideas for getting it accomplished.

Kettenhofen wanted B. A. Farlatti, operator of the Lodge, north of Novato, to design the sign along state standards and erect in place of an existing sign. His motion to this effect got no second. It came after the board unanimously rejected Farlatti's appeal for permission to leave his existing "Lodge" sign up on Highway 101.

You Built The Charm Into Mill Valley

By John Finn III

The charm of Mill Valley is to be found in its green hills, its all year streams, the winding roads, not unlike the Isle of Capri, the hundred of steps in easements, the age-old redwood trees, the sword ferns perhaps in your backyard and those nosey racoons who knock on your garbage can. This is the Mill Valley that I want to discuss with you today.

It wasn't so many years ago that the residents of Tiburon decided to paint the town. Downtown. Literally. Executives, wives and teenagers and merchants assembled for a weekend and in that short period of time completely restored downtown Tiburon. With our dangerous ill-repaired stair-easements, the same thing can be accomplished in Mill Valley. I would urge the city to buy the materials and ask you, the people of Mill Valley, to make the repairs. It would work. Project 17 is a more recent example of good community cooperation.

It is no exaggeration to say today that the charm of Mill Valley has been the work of the people over the years—people like you and me. I have often thought that the original city was laid out like a cat with a ball of string. An organized community can make the roads more passable and the steps safe for all of us.

One of the best ways to re-awaken a latent and powerful interest in the community is for you to attend at least one council meeting a month. As a councilman, I will want your advice, your requests and yes—your complaints. It makes sense to believe that the council for a period of time should advertise its meetings and agenda in the local newspapers. The informed resident is the one who will take action. The cost as compared to possible results is negligible.

A renewal of the citizens' interest in civic affairs in Mill Valley is very important to the preservation of the unique "Democracy in Action" characteristics of our city. Every person should become acquainted with our City Hall and do his share towards making Mill Valley a better place to live.

Tomorrow you will be interested in some pretty strong feelings that I have on taxes. It will appear in this space.

Plumbers To Talk With Contractors

Plumbers Union Local 38 agreed today to negotiate with area contractors, after three days of refusal to negotiate until the contractors association agreed to put 50 cents an hour into escrow, to cover a requested raise, while negotiations were in progress.

Reliable sources indicated that the union dropped its pre-negotiation demands.

About 35 independent contractors, struck since Monday, were still being struck today, and officials of contractors associations were unable to say whether the plumbers on strike would return to work before negotiations begin.

"Communication has been reestablished between union and management," said Samuel H. deLisle, speaking for the contractors associations.

"Both sides have agreed to meet within a few days to negotiate a new contract for the plumbing and pipe fitting industry in San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, and Mendocino counties. In the interest of our communication and labor peace, pending outcome of these discussions, no further statements will be made regarding this subject."

As usual, officials of the plumbers union could not be reached today for comment.

Federal Money Policy Affects Marin City

A new national monetary policy has made it difficult to sell houses in Marin City, Richard Adams, attorney for California Development Co., reported to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency Commission last night.

The federal order restricts the Federal Mortgage Assn. to buying mortgages only up to $15,000, leaving no financing available for the difference between this amount and the prices of houses.

Private financing of mortgage currently entails a 6 per cent discount, which means the seller of a $20,000 house has to absorb $1,200, said Adams.

Commissioners authorized executive director Donald O. Stutzman to send wires to federal agencies involved pointing out the effect on the Marin City redevelopment project.

Stutzman said today it is almost impossible to have any more construction of homes until the policy changes or the money market changes. He said that, in addition to the effect on redevelopment projects such as Marin City, it is a "severe curtailment" of private housing construction.

The commission appointed a committee, headed by Commissioner Jesse E. Berry, to plan a session with editors of newspapers and radio and television personnel to discuss how events in Marin City and the program of public agencies there are reported.

Stutzman said there is a feeling that publicity about lawlessness in Marin City has made it difficult to attract new residents.

Also on the committee are James O. Quiett, housing authority commissioner, Stutzman, and Edward Moose, California Development Co. employee.

Sleepy Hollow Road Link Called Need

Officails Revive Topic Of Road To Terra Linda

There is a strong need for a direct link between Terra Linda and Sleepy Hollow, but details may hinge on where the state decides to route the east-west extension of Highway 17.

These appeared to be the general conclusions of 58 businessmen and officials of the county, San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax who attended a special breakfast meeting today sponsored by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Apparent in their comments was a new desire to face a question which has lain dormant for some time.

Among speakers were James McDonold, vice president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce; Walter Freitas, spokesman for the Freitas Estates in Terra Linda; County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost; County Civil Defense Director James V. Burdick, and Fairfax City Administrator David Sumbardo.

McDonald and Burdick both said the county's civil defense readiness would benefit from the proposed link of Manuel T. Freitas Parkway and Fawn Drive in Sleepy Hollow. McDonald warned however, that Sleepy Hollow residents might reject the plan.

Freitas said he favored this route but San Rafael, San Anselmo and the county must jointly face the question of how to pay for it.

Frost foresaw serious engineering problems due to a steep grade and the need for large cuts. He said the other route most often mentioned—connecting with San Francisco Boulevard in San Anselmo—would be better from an engineer's view.

He stressed, however, that there is little anyone can do about either plan until the state Division of Highways makes up its mind about Highway 17.

Sumbardo said he was not speaking officially for his city or any group, but noted that Fairfax residents can see the need for a link with Terra Linda. He, too, felt such a link must tie in with the extension of Highway 17.

San Rafael businessman Margo Margossian said the real need is for the cities involved to improve communication with each other, so they may work out a plan for emergency use of what now exists rather than waiting 10 or 20 years for a highway to be built.

Assembly Reaffirms Planning Aide Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today fought off an attempt to block an administration bill aimed at letting the governor appoint the state planning director.

By a 42-23 vote, the lower house turned down Assembly Minority Leader Robert Monagan's motion to reconsider the bill, which the house passed yesterday.

Monagan, R-Tracy, said he feared the bill would make the planning office "a political plum."

But Assemblyman James R. Mills, D-San Diego, author of the measure, said it was designed "to insure close coordination between the state's planners and the state's administration."

Currently, the planning director is appointed by the state finance director on the basis of a civil service examination. The finance director also sets the salary.

Mills' bill, which now goes to the Senate, would let the governor appoint the planner, raising the office to cabinet status. It also sets a salary of $20,000 a year.

Escape Trial Faces San Quentin Inmate

Jury trial for Eual Leon Stone, 27, San Quentin inmate charged with escape, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for Aug. 1.

Stone allegedly walked away from a minimum security ground crew last Nov. 10. He had been serving time for a burglary in Los Angeles. His flight ended Dec. 2 with arrest in Kern County on a burglary count.

Tiburon Sanitary Board Favors Belvedere Annex

The Tiburon Sanitary District board said Monday night it would "look with favor on" the City of Belvedere joining the district.

James Murray, board secretary, said the board expressed the opinion after the city indicated it wanted to know if the district was in favor of annexation. Murray said that the city must initiate any annexation action.

Belevedere City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said today the city would "certainly pursue the matter", although he declined to commit the city in any way.

Belevedere contracts with the district to treat sewage in the district's Paradise Drive treatment plant. Murray said that although Belvedere pays for plant use, under the present arrangement it has no say in the operation.

VICTIMS FEEL SHOCK

Tuberculosis-Stricken Mother Plans Campaign Against Apathy

Mary Stannard has won her battle with tuberculosis. But she is just beginning her personal fight to overcome the indifference that prevents elimination of the disease.

After spending four and one-half months in the isolation of Ross Hospital Terrace, she returned last month to her Novato home, her husband Robert, assistant superintendent of Marin County schools, and their four children, ages 5 to 10.

Thanks to her husband and the excellent young mother-substitute they found through a newspaper advertisement, her children showed little emotional tension, Mrs. Stannard reports. "I've never been kissed and hugged so much in my life as since I came home and it's wonderful after being limited to a weekly visit — with a window glass between us!"

It will be months before Mrs. Stannard does much more than "take it easy, get your shots and take your pills" (twice weekly injections of streptomycin and anti-TB drugs). And it is unlikely she ever will resume her former non-stop schedule as helpmate, Cub Scout den mother, Parent-Teacher Assn. room mother, Sunday school teacher, interested participant in community affairs.

That routine ended abruptly last Oct. 24 with her physician's order: "Pack your bag. You have tuberculosis."

She now realizes the state of shock she experienced for the first two weeks (an experience shared by the other patients she found) was caused as much by the identity of their illness as by the drastic change in living.

"Tuberculosis? Impossible!" was the first reaction of every patient with whom she talked.

"TB had never entered my mind," she recalls, "not even when my doctor sent me to a chest specialist." Usually in good health, she explained, she contracted an unshakeable bronchial infection following a strenuous vacation last August.

"Despite Christmas Seals and the pleas of the TB association, I'd had only one chest x-ray since I taught kindergarten before our 10-year-old was born," Mrs. Stannard said. "I had never been tuberculin tested. And neither had any of the other patients I asked."

An uneasy conscience added to the torture of those first weeks in the Terrace. "What if I have infected my children and adults I worked with in school and church? Before working with anybody — especially children — it should have been my first responsibilty to make sure I was not endangering them. Why didn't I take the simple, free tests that would have revealed this disease?"

Out of such painful self-probing came Mrs. Stannard's determination to try to make up for her own negligence by doing everything she can to divert others from the same path. Her determination was strengthened by her thankfulness that of the approximately 200 persons she might have infected, not one reacted to the tuberculin test — not even her own children.

The stigma sometimes attached to TB is another target for her efforts. "When my mother heard I was in the TB hospital, she pleaded with me not to tell my friends," Mrs. Stannard recalls. "This attitude was held by her generation, but today we know it is ridiculous. TB is caused by a germ and there's nothing shameful about it. The only shame is in pretending it isn't here."

Mrs. Stannard said she agrees with the patient services committee of the Marin TB Assn. that a lounge or recreation room is needed for Terrace patients. "It was very lonely, in spite of the wonderful staff and volunteers. It helped most to talk to other patients because they truly understood, but there was no place to sit and chat."

Kern County School Aide Takes Top Fairfax Post

Harry Reginald Hamond, deputy superintendent of Richland School District in Shafter, Kern County, was appointed last night as superintendent of Fairfax School District.

He will succeed Supt. Homer Sisk, who will retire June 30. The contract will be for three years at a starting salary of $14,000.

The appointment was announced at a meeting of the Fairfax School District Board.

Hamond, 48, is married and has two sons, aged 18 and 22.

He began with the Richland School District in 1952 as a sixth grade teacher and was appointed deputy superintendent in 1957.

A graduate of the University of California, he received his M.A. at the University of California at Los Angeles, where he also received a degree in general education administration in 1964. He is a member of the National Education Assn., National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, and California Teachers Assn.; past president of the California Elementary School Administrators Assn. in Kern County, and of the Richland Teachers Club. He is also a member of the Lions Club and a Mason.

Hamond is expected to arrive in the area April 18 and to attend a meeting of the board the following day.

His selection was the second of a successor to Sisk. The first choice, William Trevethick, superintendent of Susanville Elementary School District, changed his mind after being hired in February.

The Fairfax School District Board also:

1. Accepted resignations of Manor School teachers Mrs. Margaret Ritter, Mrs. Gail Hybert and Allan Gere, and Central School teachers Mrs. Jean Cady and Nyal Worsham.

2. Agreed to allow Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow Little League the Friday evening and Saturday use of school playing areas.

3. Welcomed the support of the Fairfax Citizens' Planning Committee to plans to hold an operational tax increase election to coincide with primary elections June 7.

4. Announced that opponents of the tax increase election must submit arguments to the county superintendent of schools no later than April 14.

No Nuclear War By U.S., Russia, Professor Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Columbia University professor said yesterday he had learned on the highest authority that the United States and the Soviet Union had agreed not to make nuclear war.

The professor, Seymour Melman, spoke before a conference of the California Assn. of Secondary School administrators and at a news conference.

The agreement, he said, was reached after the Cuba missile crisis and added:

"It's significant that ever since then neither country has made any threats of nuclear warfare."

He did not identify his authority.

Vaccinations Set Against Measles

EL CENTRO (AP)—Health officials planned a massive vaccination program today in the wake of an epidemic of red measles in Imperial County.

Injection guns filled with vaccine will be used on some 5,000 pre-school and 10,000 primary school children next week, officials said.

Doctors became disturbed when they learned 119 cases of red measles were treated during the final week of March, compared to 26 cases for the same period in 1965.

Bogus Postal Workers Rob Mail Truck

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police and postal inspectors today sought two men who waylaid a mail truck last night, bound and gagged the driver and escaped with six sacks of registered mail.

The victim was Vernon Smith, 46, South San Francisco. Bound and gagged as he was, Smith wandered from house to house along Bayshore Blvd., punching doorbells with his elbows to seek help.

The truck, carrying registered mail from San Francisco International Airport, was leaving the airport, Smith told police, when a man wearing what looked like a postal employe's cap hailed him. The man explained to Smith that his mail truck had broken down and he needed help.

The man crawled into Smith's truck, then pulled a revolver and ordered Smith to keep driving. Shortly afterwards, Smith was forced to stop and pick up the robber's companion, then ordered to drive to San Francisco. He drove down Bayshore Boulevard, and onto the Third Street turnoff, where the robbers bound and gagged him and Smith described the robbers as Negroes between the ages of 30 and 35.

Woman 'Fair' In Apparent Try At Suicide

Joan Whooley, a San Rafael woman who apparently shot herself in the stomach in a suicide attempt yesterday, was reported conscious and in fair condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Mrs. Whooley, 31, was rushed to the hospital at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday after police answered a call and found her wounded at her home at 2166 Fifth Avenue. Police said today that they believed the wounds were self-inflicted.

Her husband, John G. Whooley, 31, told police his wife had been under the care of a psychiatrist for a nervous breakdown.

The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank supplied 18 pints of O-positive type blood to the victim, and has asked for donations to replenish its supply. Donors can give at the San Rafael Blood Center, 506 Fourth Street, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The center will be open Good Friday.

Larkspur Asked To Raise Pay Of Librarians

The Larkspur Library Board yesterday recommended city council adoption of a library budget of $20,882 for fiscal 1967, well above this year's budget of $16,300.

Principal cause of the increase, said librarian Helen S. Wilson, is a recommendation for higher pay for the library staff, not included in raises granted by the city council in January.

Under the proposed budget, Mrs. Wilson's salary would rise from $4,800 to $6,000 annually. The salary of children's librarian Lois Rand would go from $2,640 to $5,000. Salaries of part-time help would rise from $1.35-$2.50 to $2-$3.50 an hour.

Mrs. Wilson said another factor in the budget hike is the plan to open the library for two hours on Saturdays, beginning July 1, for a six-month trial period.

Most Drivers Break Laws

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Ninety-nine per cent of America's motorists can't drive five minutes without breaking a law, a motor vehicle researcher said yesterday.

Dr. Dorothy S. Edwards, Silver Springs, Md., a staff member of the American Institute for Research, described an experiment in which 304 drivers were filmed for five minutes each.

Addressing a research conference sponsored by the American Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators, she said only three of the 304 persons being filmed finished the five-minute experiment without a single violation.

She added that accident-free drivers apparently break the law as often as motorists who have been involved in one or more traffic mishaps.

Some Don't Need Deer Kill Tag

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Farmers, ranchers and other property owners who hold permits to shoot depredating deer don't have to pay the $2 tag fees required of hunters, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch ruled today.

"It would be unreasonable to require a person to pay $2 for each tag issued to kill deer which are damaging crops," Lynch said.

The opinion was requested by Walter T. Shannon, director of the State Fish and Game Department.

Motorists Get Fines For Drunken Driving

Frydrych Mieczyslaw, 59, of 187 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael, was fined $166 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested March 28 on Forbes Avenue in San Anselmo by San Anselmo police.

Domenic Lawrence Magliulo, 44, of 170 Alpine Street San Rafael, was fined $110 and placed on two year's probation, also for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Feb. 27 on Highway 101.

Drug Makers Get A Blunt Warning

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — The doctor who is commissioner of the Food and Drug administration bluntly prescribed a stiff dose of self-regulation today for the drug manufacturing industry, which he said is exhibiting symptoms of a disease that drugs cannot cure.

"That disease is irresponsibility," Dr. James L. Goddard said in an address prepared for the annual meeting of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Assn.

"You cannot afford to have it in your midst any longer," he told the businessmen. "You, as the leaders of this industry, are capable of insuring that such irresponsibility is corrected.

"I am placing this challenge before you today," he said. "I am asking you to join us in correcting abuses and in seeking — not what will just 'get by' — but what is excellent in the science of drugs."

Goddard said he is alarmed about the future of the drug industry.

"Let me give you the basis for my feeling of alarm, after only 10 weeks in the FDA. During this brief but busy period I have seen evidence that too many drug manufacturers may well have obscured the prime mission of their industry: to help people get well.

"I have been shocked at the quality of many submissions to our investigational new drug staff. The hand of the amateur is evident too often for my comfort," Goddard said.

"In addition to the problem of quality," he said, "there is the problem of dishonesty.

"Once again, I have been shocked at the materials that come into us (in new drug applications). I have been shocked at the clear attempts to slip something by us."

Measles Cases Found In County

Ten cases of measles were reported in San Rafael last week, according to the weekly communicable diseases report by county Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht.

During the same period, two measles cases were reported in Sausalito and one in Novato.

Novato, however, had the highest number of streptococcus infection cases, accounting for 80 out of the total of 116 in the county. One case of tuberculosis was reported.

College Given Books

College of Marin has received a gift of more than 400 books from the estate of the late Mrs. John F. Forbes of Ross, who died last year. The gift is a general collection including foreign language materials, according to college librarian Ward Blanchard.

Senators Kill Bill Aimed At Curbing Dope Transport

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation proposing changes in state laws controling transportation of narcotics has been killed by a Senate committee.

The Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday sent to interim study a bill by Sen. Frank S. Petersen, D-Ukiah, which would have:

1. Required confiscation of a vehicle only when it was proved that the vehicle was used for sale of narcotics. At present, a car is forfeited when possession of narcotics is established.

2. Required banks and savings and loan associations to check into the backgrounds of car loan applicants. Under present law, if a lending institution declares ignorance of the background of a person to whom it granted a loan, the institution may retain its interest in a vehicle involved in narcotics traffic.

Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch had requested the bill.

General To Speak

Maj. Gen. Andrew R. Lolli, commander of the Western NORAD Region at Hamilton Air Force Base, will be guest speaker at the San Rafael Rotary Club luncheon Monday at 12:15 p.m. at the West End Villa.

Sukarno's Riches

HONG KONG (AP)—Indonesian President Sukarno has piled up a personal fortune of more than $60 million in Swiss and Japanese banks, according to sources in Hong Kong with Indonesian and international banking contacts. Much of the money was directly deposited to Sukarno's foreign bank accounts by persons buying business favors from him, sources said.

Police Find Heroin 'Factory' In Bronx Raid

NEW YORK (UPI) —Federal and city authorities burst into a tenement narcotics "factory" last night, arrested 20 persons and seized $100,000 in raw heroin bound for pushers in Harlem and the Bronx.

Two kilos, or four and one-half pounds, of uncut heroin was found on processing tables as the raiding party broke into the three-room apartment in the Morrisania section of the Bronx, authorities said.

Federal narcotics agents and New York police found six women and three men in the apartment.

Robert Hickey, Bronx assistant district attorney, said the men were cutting the raw narcotic while the women were putting it into small packets for street sale.

Army Claiming 'Copter Records

CULVER CITY (AP)—Flights of the Hughes OH6A helicopter have left 21 world records up in the air.

The Army, which conducted the tests, claims the 'copter pulled down 12 rotary-winged aircraft records for speed, and three each for distance, climbing and sustained altitude.

Army officials, revealing the claims yesterday, said they are now before the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris for approval as official.

The craft which did all this March 12-17 under guidance of five Army and two civilian pilots, is a light observation helicopter developed here over a five-year period.

Frouge Makes Slight Gain On Marincello Access Road

By RICHARD LYTTLE

That road into Marincello—the one county supervisors approved in principle two weeks ago—was discussed before supervisors again yesterday for two hours.

It was not really on the agenda. The agenda topics were proposed access by Bunker Road, proposed covenants to assure development of the Marincello master plan, proposed sewage, and other items.

Attorneys William T. Bagley and E. Warren McGuire, representing Frouge Corp., developers of Marincello, got on the road discussion early in the hearing.

Two weeks ago, supervisors said design of the road running for two miles from Tennessee Valley Road up to the ridge north of Rodeo Lagoon appeared to be all right.

But the board said, since the road came in as a development plan, actual approval and construction would have to be held up until after Marincello is annexed to Marin Municipal Water District and after covenants are signed.

Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino told the board yesterday that it will be several weeks before the covenants are prepared to everyone's satisfaction.

William R. Seeger, manager of the water district, told the board that it will be three to six months before annexation agreements can be drawn up.

McGuire said this means Frouge will miss this year's construction on the road.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr feared permitting construction of the road would give vested rights in the development.

Bagley protested this argument at length, saying Frouge could not vest any rights outside those already approved in the plan.

All agreed that the law was generally confused on the matter of vested rights. The discussion proved a case in point.

Finally Chairman Byron W. Leydecker called a recess at 3 p.m., and asked the lawyers to see what they could work out. County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney had been called in early in the debate.

When the board reconvened, Bagley said Frouge would be willing to agree never to claim any rights other than those in the plan if the road construction were allowed now. He also said that the developer would waive any right to implement the master plan prior to annexation to the water district.

Supervisors agreed to act on this proposal next Tuesday.

Leydecker said several who were interested in the road development thought it has been put off several weeks.

McGuire said that the hearing on the road had been officially closed. Leydecker nevertheless, thought the public should be given notice that it will be discussed again next week.

The matter of access through the Bunker Road route at the south end of Marincello was put off until May 10, with hope that supervisors by then will have decided where state route 1 should go.

Other Marincello matters, including the covenants, a proposed sales office and restaurant, a request from the Bay Area Water Quality Control Board that Marincello be annexed to a district that will provide sewer service and a proposed footpath along Tennessee Valley Road were all put off until next Tuesday.

Sausalito's Councilmen Complain Over 'Double-Double' Stripe Job

Some Sausalitans are seeing "double-double" over new county-installed street markings between Harbor Drive and Gate Five on Bridgeway.

"There are signs posted but not in English. It's very confusing," a citizen told the Sausalito City Council last night.

"I agree with those comments," said Councilman Melvin S. Wax. "I have never seen such bad marking. If you are caught in double stripes, you could be there forever. It's a terrible situation."

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown tried to explain the marking. It means, he said, if there is a double double—two lines of double lines down the center of the street—you cannot cross over for any reason. But, if there is a double line, you can cross.

"If there is a double-double for a long stretch of distance, there may be a variety of entrances and exits. You're allowed to pull into these islands going either way, wait for traffic to clear and then cross into the opposite lane," he went on.

"That's why we don't understand it," said Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin.

"When I saw all those yellow lines, I slowed down something fierce," commented Mayor Jan Paul Dyk.

The mayor asked that a resolution be drawn up urging the county board of supervisors to give prime attention to the "dangerous situation"" which permits a truck with a sign on it advertising the Flea Mart to be parked on the shoulder of Bridgeway and the placing of "junk" such as plaster of Paris statuary near Gate Five Road along road shoulders.

The council adopted an ordinance granting a franchise to Sausalito Communications Service, a non-profit organization, to operate a community antenna television system in the city.

It rejected a request by Cable Television of Marin for an extension of a cable television system because applicant Robert D. Lewis of San Rafael proposed overhead cable installation, which is against city policy. Lewis indicated he would reapply for use of underground cable.

In a third action, the council requested City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to draw an ordinance to permit extension of franchise service for Sausalito Community TV, applicant T. Channock agreeing that he would permit his company's previous antenna installations to come under the new ordinance.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Opposed State Assembly Bill 128, which proposes to reduce from 55 to 50 the minimum age at which police officers may retire in the state employees' retirement system. Councilman Earl F. Dunphy said this would add eight cents to the city tax rate.

2. Asked the library board to explore availability of federal funds toward a new public library and to suggest to council methods of raising money, to place with the city's $62,000. Board President Elizabeth J. Carroll told the council lack of an exact site prohibits the board from applying for federal funds.

3. Offered moral support to the Sausalito Little Theater in finding a new theater site.

4. Held up recommendation on an application of Frank G. Skinner to the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for an on-sale beer license at the Flea Mart, 2300 Bridgeway, until City Manager Brown checks zoning requirements.

5. Raised salary of Lt. Theodore C. Zink, acting police chief, by $30 to $782 per month on a temporary basis while the city recruits for a new chief. The $782 figure is the minimum for chief.

6. Approved a contract with Aaron Green for architect's services for the corporation yard buildings, the first to cost about $28,000, with Green to be paid no more than 7 per cent of construction price.

7. Adopted resolution amending a previous agreement with developers of Marina Vista subdivision whereby developers' fees would be paid at sale of lots to total $9,400 toward a recreational area.

8. Took no action on a proposal by the City of Novato asking Sausalito to urge that Highway 101 be included in the interstate system of federal highways and requesting federal funds, previously allocated to San Francisco freeways, be reallocated to Northern California.

9. Agreed to meet at 7:30 p.m. on April 19, or 30 minutes earlier than usual, to hear report on litigation involving the city.

Dyk Proclaims Clean-Up Week

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk last night proclaimed April 25-30 as Sausalito clean-up week.

"I hope you will go through your basements and throw out stuff that might be a fire hazard and dangerous," he told the audience.

Pneumonia Takes Baby Seal's Life

The Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum's baby seal died Monday at the home of a local veterinarian, museum director Clara Evans reported yesterday.

The 25-day-old seal was taken to the museum March 12 by a well-meaning couple who thought it had been abandoned on a beach near Bolinas. Mrs. Evans told the couple they had made a mistake, but gave the seal a home.

It had since endeared itself to workers at the museum, some of whom had kept it in their homes at night. When it was a week old, it developed an infection, stopped breathing seven times, and was kept alive only by the efforts of the museum's naturalist, Mrs. Diane Williams, and two veterinarians.

An autopsy showed the baby seal's lungs were badly damaged by pneumonia, which apparently had been overlooked in everyone's concern over the infection.

In the last week, museum workers had believed the seal was going to survive. They were considering a contest among children to name it.

San Jose was named for St. Joseph, the foster-father of Christ.

Tam-To-Tanzania Is Flanny's Work

Flanny, well-liked teacher who retired a few years ago from Tamalpais High School, is right back at work in the new African country of Tanzania and is responsible for a Tam-to-Tanzania project.

Flanny, who is more formally Mrs. Kathleen Flanagan, is teaching English for the Peace Corps at the Asa River Upper Primary School.

Following correspondence with Tamalpais students, the project was formed and the school's Red Cross Council has shipped off a case of supplies to East Africa including a new atlas, a 1966 almanac, first aid supplies, soap, a variety of books and some athletic equipment.

Some of the books were used volumes from the school library.

Besides teaching English, Mrs. Flanagan wrote, she is attempting to show people how to improve with what materials they have, to clean and protect wounds.

Recent letters from the teacher indicate a need for sweaters, sweatshirts, Viewmasters and Viewmaster reels on any subject. Students are hopeful, reports Wendy Jacobs, that two more chests of donations may be sent to Tanzania before the school semester ends.

There will be Easter bunnies, magicians and other entertainment for the 39 handicapped children on the base, said Mrs. Frederick E. Warren, chairman.

Christmas Tree Hill Election

Jack Caldwell was elected president of the Christmas Tree Hill Dwellers Assn. in Corte Madera by the organization's board of directors Monday night.

Other officers elected were: Richard Persoff, vice president; Hedley B. Morris, secretary; Robert Simmons, treasurer, and Charles Kurtz, sergeant at arms.

Directors named a committee to organize an art in action show in the Corte Madera Recreation Center during the town's 50th anniversary celebration in June. They agreed to meet on the first Tuesday of every month.

Corte Madera Seeks Federal Sewer Funds

Richard Aberley, engineer for the Corte Madera Sanitary District, told the district board last night that he has applied for a federal grant to finance replacement of a sewer line on Paradise Drive.

Aberley said he asked the Department of Housing and Urban Development for as much money as possible, but doubts if the district will get more than $50,000. Aberley has not yet estimated the cost of placing the 1,700 feet of sewer line along Paradise Drive.

The district board received from Frank A. Cassou, business director of Tamalpais High School District, a request to take over the sewage system at Redwood High School and the district offices.

They requested a letter outlining the high school district's proposal for study by the sanitary district engineer.

Senate, House To Recess Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate approved today a House-passed resolution fixing the dates for an Easter vacation.

Both bodies will recess tomorrow. The Senate will return to work April 13, the House on April 18.

Two states, Alabama and Nebraska, have the goldenrod as the state flower.

Resolution Due To Ask U.C. Campus In Marin

Senate minority leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, announced yesterday he will introduce a resolution asking the University of California Board of Regents to consider a U.C. campus in Marin.

Such a resolution would put Marin County on an equal footing with Napa and Solano counties, which already have an Assembly resolution asking for a U.C. campus.

The Assembly resolution (ACR 29), by Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa, was approved last year by the Legislature. It recommends that the regents consider either Napa or Solano County as a site for a campus.

"The advantage of Napa," Young said yesterday, "is that basically it is the hub of the Bay Area, geographically." Young conceded that both Marin and Napa present geographic and cultural advantages.

Asked whether he would sponsor a resolution including Marin as one of the possible sites, Young replied:

"It's awkard because I don't represent that area." However, he said he stands ready to meet any group in Napa or Marin to discuss a U.C. campus site.

Senator McCarthy contends that Marin would be a logical site because both Sonoma and Solano already have state colleges, and a campus in Napa would require many students to travel the dangerous Black Point cutoff.

Young is Democratic candidate for Senate to represent Marin along with Napa and part of Solano.

Cold Gases Keep Fruit Fresh

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Refrigerated gases from the atmosphere have kept apples fresh for four years under laboratory conditions, an industrial firm announced yesterday.

The announcement came from Tectrol Systems of Sunnyvale, a division of Whirlpool Corp. of Benton Harbor, Mich.

The firm developed a generator which separates gases from the atmosphere and mixes them in 10 combinations.

Nitrogen, carbon dioxide and traces of other gases, but little oxygen, are used to keep fruit, meat, fish and poultry.

Patrick Demands Equal Treatment

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Republican gubernatorial candidate William Penn Patrick of Tiburon has complained that seven Los Angeles television stations have allowed Mayor Samuel W. Yorty to "pervert" his weekly news conferences into "slick political forums."

Patrick demanded yesterday equal treatment or a change in the presentation of Yorty's news conferences.

Yorty is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Patrick said the stations were violating the Federal Communications Commission's rulings on equal time for candidates for public office.

Sausalito Again Refuses To Join Marincello Suit

A second attempt was made last night to interest the City of Sausalito in joining a suit by Marin Assn. for Planning questioning the legality of the County of Marin's planned community zoning. But, as the first attempt made Feb. 15, it met defeat.

City councilmen deadlocked in a 2-2 vote Feb. 15 and Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said he would reintroduce the subject when there was a full council.

Last night Dyk and Councilman Earl F. Dunphy stood fast in favor of joining the suit, while Councilmen Alexander R. Imlay and Mrs. Eleanor O'Hara Chapin continued to oppose it.

Their opposition was joined by Councilman Melvin S. Wax, absent on the previous vote.

"I'm a card-holding opponent of Marincello," said Wax. "This is not aimed solely at Marincello. It is aimed at the planned community zoning concept, which I introduced in Sausalito. I believe in this kind of zoning."

Wax said he agreed with Mrs. Chapin, "we shouldn't throw out the baby with the bath nor dump the entire concept of planned community development or planned community ordinance simply because the county has an ordinance that isn't good in all respects or simply because we oppose Marincello and don't want additional Marincellos."

Skunk Touring Will Cost More

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —It will cost more this year to ride the Skunk's steam - powered trains, which operate on 40 redwood-lined, mountainous miles between Willits and Fort Bragg.

Most customers are tourists.

The California Public Utilities Commission gave California Western Railroad permission Tuesday to raise rates for adults to $3 one-way and $4.50 round trip. That's a 30 per cent boost.

Children ride half fare.

The Skunks' operators said they would suffer a $19,300 loss this year without the increase. The boost would provide a $18,200 profit.

Second Arrest In Extortion Try

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A second man has been arrested on extortion charges in connection with the March 20 kidnaping of Daniel Goldman, 18, from his home near Miami Beach.

FBI agents arrested Clyde Daniel Phelps, 60, of Clearwater Tuesday after he allegedly sent a letter to the Goldman family April 1 demanding $25,000.

The first man to be arrested Sunday was Gaston Genereux, 51, a chef at Boca Raton, Fla., who telephoned the Goldman family asking for the ransom money.

Association To Join Homeowner Federation

Directors of the Marinwood Assn. last night voted to join the United Home Owners Assn. of Greater San Rafael, a federation of groups still being organized.

Jack G. Nixon, president of the Marinwood Assn., said main purpose of the new group is to disseminate information. Meetings will probably be quarterly, he said. Election of officers is set for next Wednesday.

Marinwood Assn. directors agreed to sponsor a candidates night for candidates for first district supervisor.

Elected to the association board of directors were Wayne Heltd of 230 Blackberry Drive, Joe Sousa of 278 Blackberry Drive and Bruce Leibrock of 850 Idylberry Drive.

When natural rubber became scarce during World War II, meteorological balloons were made of neoprene, a synthetic.

Former Bookkeeper Gets Fine, Probation

Elsie N. Galos, former bookkeeper from San Anselmo, was placed on three years probation and fined $300 yesterday in Marin Superior Court for four counts of forgery.

Judge Harold J. Haley also directed her to take psychiatric treatment. Mrs. Galos of 18 Crest Road pleaded no contest to forging four checks between May 14, 1964, and Dec. 9, 1965, with intent to defraud her former employers, Robert S. Miller, general contractor of 612 B Street, San Rafael, and Miller's wife, owner of Marin Style House, 248 Northgate Shopping Center.

Attorney Tells Of Giving Envelope To Wolden Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Attorney James J. Arditto testestified yesterday that he handed a sealed envelope to a top aide of Assessor Russell L. Wolden last year at the close of a discussion of a brewery's tax assessment.

The Los Angeles lawyer said he understood he was delivering the brewery's contribution to Wolden's campaign fund. He added, "It was purely coincidental that I was asked to deliver the envelope."

"Was it (the contribution) completely independent of your negotiations on taxes," asked James M. MacInnis, the attorcharges of bribery and conspiracy.

"Completely unrelated," Arplum."

ditto replied, "one had nothing to do with the other."

The veteran assessor was accused of accepting bribes in return for lowering tax assessments.

Earlier in the trial the prosecution elicited testimony from Max J. Newstat, former principal personal property auditor in the assessor's office, that an envelope he rereived from Arditto contained two $1,000 bills.

Terra Linda High Goes Overboard In College Preparatory Phase

Terra Linda High School has problems with its almost-new plant, and has gone overboard on the college prepatory phase of curriculum, in the opinion of its own administrators and teachers.

A self-criticism of the school, Marin County's newest four-year high school, is contained in an appraisal report which was prepared a year ago for a Western Assn. of Schools and Colleges accreditation team.

The report indicated less faculty dissatisfaction than did that prepared about the same time at San Rafael High School. However, this was before an uproar over alleged "propagandizing" by some teachers and the choice of a book for reading by an advanced senior English class — both of which disturbed faculty morale.

Said the report:

"Because of unrealistic goals of the families of our community and therefore unrealistic school interpretation, we have over-emphasized the program for the college prep student and under-emphasized the phases of curriculum which relate to the terminal student."

The report noted that the school, which has had a building program constantly under way since its opening, still lacked adequate gymnasium space and had no place big enough for an assembly of the full student body.

(A year later, it is still without an adequate assembly hall, and school dramatic productions have to be presented in the gymnasium.)

The cafeteria was criticized as being woefully inadequate, not having been designed for growth of the school. Of 896 students answering a questionnaire for the report, 18.4 per cent cited cafeteria improvement as the most needed change at Terra Linda High.

The school's "heating and ventilating system has not been adequate since the school was built," said the report. "Teachers find it necessary to leave doors open at all times of the year for ventilation . . . Classrooms and offices are sometimes at a 90-degree temperature, or higher."

The Terra Linda report was much more critical of its new plant than was the San Rafael High School report of its old and somewhat outmoded plant — the latter obviously being tempered by knowledge that major improvements were on the way.

Student activities and curriculum planning at Terra Linda are both made difficult by the fact that 40 per cent of the student body is transported by bus, the staff report said. (This percentage will decline as students from the former San Jose School District are gradually absorbed by Novato High School.)

"Excessive parental pressures" were blamed for faculty permission for students to enter classes for which they were not qualified.

The report noted shortage of money for some uses. The budget for instructional supplies was called "inadequate in most areas." A plan to add 2,000 volumes per year to the school library was "slowed by budget cuts," the report said (although a lighted scoreboard for the football field was installed on schedule).

The staff pointed out that the school, although equipped with a full-size swimming pool, lacked shop equipment for vocational courses.

(Last September—six months after the report — the San Rafael Board of Education helped this situation temporarily by leasing two portable classrooms to be joined together to form one industrial arts shop. A month later, the board learned that the swimming pool—which had been a source of many board headaches — was running up an electric bill at the rate of $200 for every degree the water was heated.)

Median salary of Terra Linda's faculty last year was $8,062, the report disclosed — more than $1,000 under the median at San Rafael High School, although both operate with the same salary schedule.

The administrative review called the salary schedule "probably appropriate for our school in this era." However, of 39 teachers who answered a questionnaire (out of 108 who were asked to answer it), 29 called salaries "inadequate for living in Marin County."

Nevertheless, the faculty was considered outstanding by the students, according to a student questionnaire incorporated in the report (and answered by 896 students — a much higher percentage of response than on the faculty questionnaire).

Students also rated school spirit high. And 43 per cent of them said they would rate Terra Linda High "tops."

The "Star Spangled Banner" was named as the national anthem by Congress on March 3, 1931.

Alto Sanitary Board Balks At City Bill

Alto Sanitary District directors agreed Monday night to refuse payment of a $11,000 bill by the City of Mill Valley for enlarging a sewer line within the city limits.

None of the line is in the Alto district, said Director Carl O. Heynen Jr.

The board voted to go ahead with the proposed Southern Marin sanitation district, even though the City of Mill Valley has not approved the plan. Directors talked of the possibility of Marin Municipal Water District taking over operation of Southern Marin sanitary districts, said Heynen.

Directors reviewed a proposal from Bert A. Balmer, Mill Valley city manager, asking that sewer charges be changed from taxation method to assessments of $1 per connection. The board appointed a committee to study the subject.

Fire Post

Sherman Smith was appointed acting first assistant fire chief of the Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department last Monday night by Fire Chief Jose Silva, since Elias Rempelos, first assistant fire chief, is ill and in a hospital.

"Where Knowledge from the Past helps Build for the Future"

Two Special Delicacies From Russian Easter Celebration

Among traditional religious feasts, Easter ranks high with the Russian people and is observed this year on April 10 according to the Julian Calendar of the Eastern Orthodox Church.

According to tradition, two special delicacies are prepared for the occasion, Kulich, a tall, cylindrical yeast cake, and Paskha, a pyramid-shaped cheese cake.

On Saturday night at about 11 o'clock, people carry ritual samplings of Paskha and Kulich to the traditional midnight Mass, where they are blessed by the priest. A few minutes before midnight, the clergy and people leave the church. Three times the priest tries to open the door of the church, but it is locked. Then, as he proclaims "Christ is risen," the doors swing open and reveal an illuminated interior.

AT THE SAME time, the cupola and cross on top of the church light up suddenly and the oil torches of angel statues, placed at the four corners of the church blaze into flames. A joyous hymn is intoned by the congregation, clergy and choir and friends and bystanders kiss one another three times on both cheeks.

A solemn procession and beautiful and lengthy Mass follows. Most people, however, usually rush home after the procession to break their fast with a little hallowed food, Paskha and Kulich and go to bed.

The actual celebration begins on the morning of Easter Sunday when the Russian table is covered with a brightly patterned cloth and loaded with painted colored eggs, vodka and wines, Paskha and Kulich, various appetizers, suckling pig and perhaps a baked ham.

THE OLDER members of the family stay at home to receive callers, who appear dressed in their holiday finery. The visits are usually short, since people often call on some 30 or 40 relatives, friends, acquaintances and business associates.

Mrs. Boris Davidoff of Greenbrae is among the Ladies of the Russian Orthodox St. Nicholas Church in San Anselmo who bake these delicacies each year during Eastertime. She has generously given us her recipe for Paskha and also Kulich which she mentions has been "Americanized" and simplified from that of a friend in Los Angeles.

KULICH (Easter Cake)

3 cakes of yeast
18 eggs (use 18 yolks and only 8 whites)
4 cups sugar
3 cups milk or half and half
1 pound butter
7 cups flour
1-2 teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon extract
¼ teaspoon powdered cardamom
¼ cup chopped almonds
½ cup fruit cake glace mix
½ cup or more raisins

Using a small bowl, crumble the yeast and add ⅓ cup milk, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons sugar. Mix and allow to rise in a warm place.

Meanwhile, separate yokes from whites saving 10 whites for another recipe below. Whip the 8 egg whites and refrigerate. Next, add remaining milk to the pound of butter and bring to boil.

In a large mixing bowl, measure 3 cups of flour, then add the boiling milk and butter and stir. Next, add yolk and sugar mixture immediately. Now fold in the whipped egg whites and to this add the yeast mixture. Lastly, add the remaining 4 cups of flour and knead for one hour. During the last 15 minutes of kneading, add the vanilla, lemon extract and powdered cardamom as desired according to taste. The chopped almonds, fruit cake glace mix and raisins are added next.

For the final step a form must be used in baking the Kulich. For this, 3 large 2 lb. 10 oz. carton sizes may be used. Cut the rim off the cardboard top and place at the bottom of the carton to strengthen it. Then cut and measure aluminum foil to line sides and bottom of the cartons. Grease the foil with shortening or sweet butter either before or after it is placed inside the cartons.

Use approximately ⅓ of dough in each carton. Place in oven until dough rises about twice its original size. (Note—it is very important that this dough is not disturbed or jostled.) Turn the oven on to 350 degrees and bake for 1 hour 10 minutes without opening oven door.

Test the bread with a long wooden stick before removing from the oven. Allow the Kulich to cool about ten minutes in the carton, then carefully remove sideways over a soft surface (such as pillows). Top with white frosting and Easter decorations.

DRY CAKE

10 egg whites
1 cup walnuts
1 cup sugar

Using a spoon, mix the egg whites, walnuts and sugar. Don't beat, but spoon mixture into a food grinder and mix. Bake at 350 degrees for about 45 minutes in a greased 9-inch pan. Test with toothpick.

PASKHA (Russian Cheesecake)

2 pounds baker's cottage cheese (small curd)
1 pound sweet butter
1 large carton sour cream
Yolks of 5 hardboiled eggs
2½ cups sugar
2 vanilla beans, cut in large pieces

Optional: raisins or currents, chopped almonds, fruit cake glace mix. (Use in various amounts as desired.)

Using a food grinder, alternately mix cottage cheese, butter and hard boiled egg yolks. Run through grinder twice. Next, add sugar and sour cream. (You may use an electric mixer, but do not overmix.)

If available, use a special wooden form for Paskha. Cardboard quart cartons may also be used and these should have perforations on the bottom so the liquid will drain out. Line the form or carton with several layers of moistened cloth or cheesecloth. Next, ladle the mixture into the form and place in refrigerator taking care to place a bowl underneath to catch the drippings.

Store in refrigerator for 24 hours or more with a ½ to 1 pound weight used as a press. Test consistency. Or, if more time is available, allow mixture to thicken 6 hours, then place the weight on the mixture. Allow to remain in refrigerator 48 hours. Test and serve.

TRADITIONAL DELICACIES of the Russian Easter table include Kulich, a tall cylindrical yeast cake, and Paskha, a pyramid-shaped cheese cake marked with initials signifying, "Christ is risen." Vodka, wines, baked ham, suckling pig and hardboiled decorated eggs which are cracked together in ceremony are also part of the feast.

A GAY centerpiece for a child's party or a class gathering is this perky lamb of popcorn and syrup. Vanilla ice cream makes a tasty accompaniment. It, too, can be pressed into a mold and frozen until firm. Then unmolded and decorated with whipped cream and fresh strawberries.

A Party Delight—Eatable Surprise

He looks soft and wooly but he's really all popcorn and crunchy — this perky lamb. Nestled comfortably in a bed of tinted cocoanut grass dotted with daisies, he is the picture of expectancy as he waits for the party to begin. A gay centerpiece for a child's birthday party or a class gathering, it can also be the eatable surprise of the party This striking looking centerpiece is made easily too. As the syrup cooks, the popcorn is popped in its own foil frypan. Then syrup and popped corn are combined for ready shaping. The lamb can be shaped by hand or if you prefer, press the popped corn mixture into a lamb cake mold and let it set until cool.

Vanilla ice cream makes a tasty accompaniment. It, too, can be pressed into a mold and frozen until firm. Then unmolded and decorated with whipped cream and fresh strawberries just before serving.

In a child's world, this gay beguiling lamb will be a long time memory.

POPCORN EASTER LAMB

1 pkg. Ready-To-Pop Popcorn
¾ cup evaporated milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup light corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt

Pop corn according to package directions. Grease a large kettle or bowl. Put popped corn in it. In a saucepan, mix butter and evaporated milk and heat until butter has melted. Keep warm. In a heavy 2 quart saucepan, cook sugar, corn syrup, and salt over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil. Boil, stirring frequently until mixture reaches firm ball stage, 250 degrees F. Stir hot milk into sugar mixture very slowly so that the sugar does not stop boiling. Cook and stir until candy reaches firm ball stage again. Pour syrup over popped corn and mix well so all corn is coated with syrup. With well greased hands, shape the body of the lamb by making a rounded-rectangular shape, approximately 9" long, 4" high, and 3" wide. Then make a neck by making a disk 1" high and 2" wide. Attach neck to one end of body. Shape head by making a 2½" diameter round ball. On one side, bring to a point so as to make a cone for nose. Make 2 triangles, each 1" wide, for ears, and attach to head. Place head on top of neck. Gently press together and round edges.

If mold is used. Grease both halves of lamb mold well. With well greased hands, press coated popped corn into both halves of mold. Gently unmold both

New Method Of Yeast Bread

There's a new method of yeast bread baking abroad in the land. Curious to try the method, we tested the following recipe and enjoyed the test.

The dough for this bread is prepared and shaped without letting it rise in a warm place; instead the bread rises in the refrigerator. Thorough beating of the dough, during its preparation, is an important step. So if you try this recipe, beat hard before you knead.

Two sorts of loaves are made at one time from this recipe. One loaf is swirled with a cheese-and-chive mixture, the other with cinnamon and sugar. Serve the cheese loaf with a main course; offer the other at breakfast. Our loaves had a compact texture that we liked, and their flavor was good.

TWO-WAY
REFRIGERATOR BREAD

2 packages active dry yeast
½ cup warm water
1¾ cups warm milk
2 tablespoons sugar
3 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
5½ to 6½ cups flour (unsifted regular or instant blending)
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon minced chives, fresh or freeze-dried
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons cinnamon

In a large warm bowl, dissolve the yeast in the warm (105 to 115 degrees) water. Add warm milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, salt and butter. Stir in 2 cups of the flour; with a rotary beater (electric or hand) beat thoroughly until smooth — 1 to 2 minutes. Add 1 cup flour; with a wooden spoon, beat vigorously until smooth — about 150 strokes. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough. Turn out into a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic — about 10 minutes; if kneaded sufficiently, dough will spring back when a finger is firmly pressed into it. Cover with plastic wrap, then with a towel; let rest at room temperature for 20 minutes.

Punch down dough; divide in half. On a lightly floured board, roll each half into an 8 by 12 inch rectangle.

Mix together the cheese and chives; sprinkle over one of the rectangles. Roll up tightly from the 12-inch side; firmly seal edge. Seal ends of loaf and fold the sealed ends slightly under the loaf. Place seam side down in a greased loaf pan (8½ by 4½ by 2½ inches). Brush with salad oil. Place a sheet of oiled wax paper over the top of the pan; place another sheet of plastic wrap over the paper. Do not tuck paper or plastic wrap under bottom of pan; dough should not be tightly covered; the coverings are to keep it moist but not hinder rising. Refrigerate for 2 to 24 hours.

Mix together 2 tablespoons sugar and cinnamon; sprinkle over other rectangle of dough. Now follow procedure used for other half of dough for rolling up, sealing, placing in pan, covering and refrigerating.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Carefully uncover the dough; let stand at room temperature for 10 minutes. With a greased toothpick or metal skewer, puncture any surface bubbles that may have formed on dough. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until browned — 30 to 40 minutes. (Loaves are done if they sound hollow when tapped with fingers.)

Remove to wire racks to cool. Do not slice bread until it has cooled.

Makes 2 loaves—Cheese Chive Bread and Cinnamon Bread.

Shinto Style Rite Held On Mt. Tamalpais

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Cushing Memorial Amphitheater on top of Mt. Tamalpais, Midori Yoshida and Keisuke Kondo, both of San Francisco, and formerly of Japan were married in an adaptation of a Shinto ceremony performed by the Rev. Karel Botermans of the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin.

Both bride and bridegroom wore traditional Shinto wedding kimonos. Midori was dressed in the white kimono and coat with a red obi and white headdress with yellow flowers.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Lee Shimmin of San Francisco, wore a kimono in white and orange print. Tadao Kunishi of San Francisco, a classmate of the bridegroom at Gakushiun University in Tokyo and at San Francisco State College, served as best man.

As is customary, accompanying the bride and bridegroom to the stage, which was outlined with colored paper flowers, were the go-between couple, Mr. and Mrs. Tomoichi Tsuge of San Francisco.

Following the vows, a ceremony of wine drinking was held with the wedding party and friends in attendance participating. The marriage vows were sealed with the breaking of the bridal glass by the bridegroom.

A buffet of Japanese delicacies with a wedding cake and champagne was served.

Both bride and bridegroom, who are students at San Francisco State were born in Nagoya, Japan, and were betrothed by their parents when they were youngsters.

Keisuke is working towards a master's degree in marketing and his bride is majoring in English and psychology.

"PEBBLE" ROCKS DIAMOND WORLD

1866-1966 . . . Until that bright day 100 years ago, only royalty and a privileged few owned diamonds. But after the little Jacobs boy picked up that "pebble"—a 21.4 carat diamond—on the Orange riverbanks near Hopetown, South Africa, the world changed.

San Francisco in 1866 was a great cosmopolitan seaport—the financial and cultural hub of the West. Shortly after the turn of the century, Granat Brothers began meeting the city's fine jewelry needs. Then as now, the discriminating looked to us for the ultimate in rare diamonds and other precious gems. To accommodate our ever-growing number of patrons, Granat Brothers now have eight locations in San Francisco and the Great Bay area. This month we're celebrating the South African Diamond Centennial.

HISTORIC VALUES IN DIAMONDS—1 CARAT and LARGER

Our buyers have spent months planning, searching, screening . . . to bring you this extraordinary diamond collection. You'll agree, we think, this is a unique opportunity to purchase such rare diamonds at such exceptional prices.

One carat diamonds and larger priced from $1,200 to $35,000

Invitation To Sneak Out Doesn't Usually Lead To Rehabilitation

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teen-age questions to Youth Asked For It, care of Helen Help Us, the Independent-Journal.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm 15. He's 18. He has a reputation for being wild, but he says I'm the only one who can straighten him out. He says he needs somebody to believe in him and trust him. I know he goes out and does bad things but that's because nobody understands him. There's a wild streak in everybody but I could bring out the good in him.

My parents won't let me, though. They say he can come to the house and visit but I can't go out with him until he proves himself. He says they're against him too and would never change, so he wants me to pretend I'm at a girl friend's house and date him anyway. Then when he's all rehabelitated (excuse spelling) we'll show my folks they were wrong. Would it work?

They say experience is the best teacher. Why don't they let me date him?—IN LOVE

DEAR I. L.:

Honey, the odds are at least 50 to one you'd only prove your folks right. Would a boy who deserves your trust ask you to break trust with your parents? Especially when they are halfway on his side?

Experience isn't the best teacher if the teacher is too "experienced" — and the pupil such an all-fired-up innocent reformer she doesn't realize: when a boy asks a girl to sneak out, rehabilitation is not what he has in mind.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'll bet you get a lot more letters from adults than teens on that "Teen Boost of the Month Club." As you say, young people don't toot their own horns. So I'll toot for 'em. We've had teens in our home for years—our own and all their friends.

If you treat them as people, they'll treat you like a queen. As for this no communication bit, and the growing rift between adults and youth—hokum. If we give them a chance to really talk to us, there's no stopping them.

Here's just one example out of many that makes me realize teens are tops.

Our daughter's band-and-chorus group went out to entertain children at a home for the handicapped. There were all types of youngsters and some loved to dance so they played dance tunes.

. . . And there were those kids of ours out guiding the little children through simple dance steps—all impromptu: it hadn't been planned.

And then — honest, I almost cried—I saw this tall, handsome 17-year-old boy with a little spastic child in his arms whirling around the floor, laughing and joking with her as if she were his best girl friend. And you could tell by the way those arms clung to his neck—she'd found a real friend, too. He goes back every week. — HUMBLE

TENDER LOVING CARE

Chula, the tame coyote at San Rafael's Boyd Natural Science Museum, has a broken leg, but the pain was eased somewhat today when he found he also has lots of young friends, some of whom were allowed to sign his cast. One of those who sympathized and signed was Judy Johnson, 6, a daughter of Marin County Sheriff's Deputy and Mrs. Norman R. Johnson of 51 Mariposa Street, San Rafael. Museum officials are unsure how Chula broke the leg, but suspect he did it climbing the sides of his cage. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Young Republicans Hit Leaders 'Secret' Deal

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—County Young Republican officials have publically charged that a "secret written agreement" exists between the California and National YR presidents.

In sharp criticism Monday the county YR leaders said they understood a "secret written agreement" existed giving California State Central Committee Chairman Dr. Gaylord Parkinson the right to audit the CYR books.

In a statement issued Monday county YR president David DeLoach and other leaders:

Charged they understood a "secret written agreement" existed giving Parkinson the right to audit the CYR books. "We consider this to be an admission that our organization is lacking in integrity, and we ask if Dr. Parkinson is now in charge of the California Young Republicans, and if so—Why?"

Asked if Mike Djordjevich, state YR chief, entered into any other secret agreements.

Expressed regret that the state president "failed to extract either proof of the charges or an apology for the smear placed upon us so that the facts are made clear to the public."

County YRs denied all charges of extremism.

In stressing a desire for cooperation to achieve stronger party, the officials said the issue "deserves immediate attention and resolution and expect that in the future our organization will be allowed to function without outside pressures and interference to hinder us in achieving victories for our candidates."

Big Sur Raid Nets Campers

BIG SUR (AP) — A sheriff's posse raided the Big Sur area yesterday and arrested for a trespassing investigation 14 persons in beatnik costume — long hair, sweatshirts, sandals, jeans and shoulder blankets.

Jack Davenport, Monterey County sheriff, led a party of 10 deputies who answered a complaint by Cortland T. Hill of swanky Pebble Beach, owner of land in this oceanside area.

At the mouth of the Little Sur River, they arrested eight men and six young women who they said had been camping on a private beach.

Somali's language has no generally accepted written form. The written languages are Arabic, Italian and English.

Professor Says Trains Face Fate Of Dinosaurs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A university professor predicted yesterday the complete demise of passenger trains in California before 1980.

George W. Hilton, UCLA economics professor, was speaking at a State Public Utilities Commission hearing into whether Southern Pacific Co. should eliminate the Larks, night trains between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Hilton, chairman of President Johnson's Task Force on Transportation Policy, predicted that "the forces which have rendered the Lark unprofitable will inevitably extinguish the American passenger train."

He said in the 1890s trains carried 95 per cent of all traffic moving between cities and now carry barely 2 per cent. Private cars carry 90 per cent.

Trains are less flexible than cars, more expensive than buses and slower than airplanes, he declared.

"Railroad passengers are now typically people over the age of 50, who retain the travel habits of their youth or yet hold the fear of flying . . .," he continued.

Tanker Sinks

HONOLULU (AP) The Liberian-registered tanker Comet broke in two and sank yesterday with the probable loss of 11 crewmen, some 600 miles north of Midway Island, the Navy reported.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION ABC

One in a series of messages to advertisers

What is an ABC figure?

Chatting with a merchant the other day, we mentioned our "ABC figure."
"What," he asked, "is an ABC figure?"

Perhaps what we told him will also interest you.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an independent, nonprofit association of well over 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers. Its purpose is to provide accurate and factual reports on the circulation of member publishers. In the advertising and publishing industry, the ABC insigne is often referred to as the "hallmark of circulation values."

At regular intervals, an ABC traveling auditor visits our office to check our records. The findings of this physical audit are embodied in an Audit Report, published by ABC—the report literally tells us what our circulation figure is.

Virtually everything an advertiser should know about our circulation is found in this report, facts and figures without opinion.

Few retailers bother to ask to see a copy of our report, yet we want you to know one is available anytime you are interested in checking the quality and quantity of our circulation audience—the audience for your advertising messages.

What is an ABC figure?

It is our way of making sure that you get full measure for your advertising in this newspaper.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT JR
A red letter week

Shipbuilder Agrees Negro Equal Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sitting in his 12th floor, modernistic office, the man with a strong jaw faintly reminiscent of a more famous profile gazes out over the panorama of Washington.

Then he turns and muses aloud to a visiting newsman. "This has been a red letter week," he says.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

The man is Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 51, chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

And why is it a red letter week for him? Because, he says, a big breakthrough has been scored which could set a pattern for industry in the South, as well as elsewhere.

He referred to an agreement, announced Monday, whereby the nation's largest shipbuilder, the Newport News (Va.) Shipbuilding & Drydock Co., signed up to provide broad new promotion opportunities for Negroes.

FILE CHARGES

Forty-one Negroes had filed charges of job discrimination. So the result was a pact with the commission whereby an outside expert will look over the job patterns in the company. If it is found that Negroes get less pay than whites for the same work, they are to be raised immediately. Similarly in any case where it is found that promotions have been denied because of race.

Roosevelt said there have been 25 other conciliations of a major nature.

The commission Roosevelt heads was set up under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Its job is to combat employment discrimination account of race, sex, religion or national origin.

But its powers of coercion are limited. The accent is on conciliation, on voluntary compliance. Much of its work must be in secret, under heavy penalties for talking out loud unless both parties to a dispute agree. That, Roosevelt finds, is one of his headaches.

Bridge Meeting Friday

A meeting of the finance committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will be held Friday at 10 a.m. in the administration building of the toll plaza in San Francisco.

Drake Teacher Tests Instant Taxidermy Idea

By LARRY WAGNER
Sir Francis Drake High School

Jack Smith, a biology teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, is working on a way to preserve bird and animal specimens by injecting them with certain solutions.

Smith said his biochemical taxidermy method is less expensive and time-consuming than the traditional taxidermy process.

"It takes a taxidermist about four hours to complete a bird, whereas it can be done in 20 minutes biochemically," he said.

Smith got the idea from an article in a biology teaching journal, which explained injecting a solution of formaldehyde into a specimen to preserve it in life-like form. This, he explained, prevented the bacteria from becoming established in the tissue, which results in putrefaction, but something was needed to prevent the specimen from shriveling up.

He then made a second injection of Tissue Builder, which, he states, "is the commercial name for a chemical solution used by morticians to restore emaciated tissue."

With sophomores Jim Grandjean and Gary Makel assisting, the instructor has already preserved several birds, snakes, and a squirrel.

His primary purpose for preserving them, he explained, is to have "a speedy and satisfactory method for teachers to have classroom specimens at a low cost in a minimum of time." He said sportsmen could preserve specimens to enhance their dens.

"What I'm concerned about right now," he commented, "is how substantial the specimen's tissue will be after a reasonable length of time; then we'll concentrate on a good-looking mount."

Brown's Budget Revised Upward

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown, battling to revive his stalled fiscal program, handed the legislature's new budget session today a revised $4.64 billion spending program, $23 million higher than the version that was rejected in the Assembly. (See earlier story on page 2.)

Requests for state funds to buy land for a proposed federal nuclear reactor in Sacramento County and new state college sites boosted the request above the $4.617 billion the governor had requested earlier.

It also includes Brown's full request for new state park sites and developments. His proposals had been cut down in the legislature.

Brochure Urges West Marin Bonds

Voters in the West Marin School District have been sent a mimeographed brochure urging them to vote for passage of a $246,000 bond issue April 19.

The brochure, prepared by a citizens committee without use of district funds, explains that money would be used for an addition to West Marin School.

Using figures supplied by the architectural firm of Haines, Tatarian and Associates of San Francisco, the committee estimates thatt he money would build four classrooms, a library, maintenance and storage facilities and a shelter in which pupils can wait for school buses on rainy days.

Following a question and answer format, the brochure argues that these additions are needed due to growing enrollment.

Attendance, it shows, has grown from 222 in the 1960-61 school year to 307 at present. Further, it notes that grades five through eight are using the multi-purpose room for classes.

The brochure denies a rumor that the $246,000 would exceed the total cost of the school building's construction to date. Adding up expenditures from the years 1954 through 1960—including three bond issues during that time—it shows that $274,382.38 has been spent so far.

Also noted is the fact that the amount of the proposed bond issue is equal to the total bonding capacity of the district. The brochure contends that passage of the bonds will not result in an increase of taxes, while its defeat would not bring about a tax decrease.

Hospital Unit Adds Woman To Directors

Mrs. William Kent Jr., a former resident of Sunny Hills, has been named the first woman memberof the newly formed Marin General Hospital Foundation.

Now living in San Francisco, Mrs. Kent has had long-time ties with Marin County and owns property in the area. She replaced Sidney Braverman of San Anselmo, who died in January.

She has been associated with many Bay Area and Northern California organizations, including serving as president of the Katharine Branson School board of trustees.

The foundation was formed as a non-profit corporation late last year to obtain and invest bequests, grants, gifts and other contributions for the hospital.

Other directors are Kenneth K. Bechtel of Kentfield, Dr. Wilson P. Goddard of Bolinas, Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael, Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Tiburon, and Allan Sproul Sr. of Kentfield.

On Show Committee

H.P. Boyd, Mill Valley veterinarian, has been named to the statewide advisory committee of the California State Horse Fair, scheduled for June 11-19 at the Sacramento Fairgrounds.

Chevrolet Stolen

David P. Milani of 18 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, reported his 1956 light blue Chevrolet stolen from where it was parked at Grand Avenue and Greenway Street, San Rafael, Monday.

Jolon (Hoh-lohn), valley in Monterey County, means valley of dead oaks, an Indian name. Mission San Antonio de Padua is near Jolon.

Postmaster Sought For San Quentin

Steps are being taken to give the little post office with the king-size job at San Quentin village its first postmaster in over a year.

An examination for the job will be open for applications until April 26, the Civic Service Commission announced today. The salary will be $6,888.

Since Mrs. Valate T. Eliason of San Rafael retired in March of last year, the office has been run by Mrs. Leona C. Ragle, clerk.

The office handles all the business at the prison from a station within the walls.

In 1960, the postmark on mail posted at the station was changed to "Tamal" to save embarrassing prisoners. Mail posted at the tiny office outside the gates, however, continues to carry the famous postmark of "San Quentin."

Car, Boat Show Will Help Drake Scholarship Funds

The Marin Car and Boat Show sponsored by the Drake Scholarship Foundation and the Quick Chargers of Marin is scheduled for May 22.

Entries from all of Northern California will be accepted and exhibited on the Sir Francis Drake High School athletic field in San Anselmo. There is no entrance fee, and everyone is encouraged to enter, said counselor Mike Convis, the foundation's president. Deadline for application is May 8.

The show, which will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. will include hot rods, customs, sports cars, antiques, competition cars, boats, and dealer displays. Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners in each category.

Judging will be on the basis of practicality, neatness, extent of modification, and special and unusual features. Senior Bob Foti, president of the Quick Chargers, will head the panel of judges.

All proceeds from the show will go to the scholarship foundation.

Four Students Earn Chance At Bank Prize

For the first time in 10 years, all four of Sir Frances Drake High School's Bank of America trophy winners have been invited to continue in the zone competitions, April 14 at College of Marin.

Based on scholastic achievement, extra-curricular activities, and leadership, zone competitors are seniors Sandee Schultz, fine arts, Fairfax; Russ Richeda, liberal arts; Marty Miller, science and math, and Corinna Gneri, vocational arts, all of San Anselmo.

Zone competition will consist of a panel discussion on general and specific topics in each area of accomplishment. Those chosen to continue after their participation in panel discussion will compete until one student in each area is chosen as the winner of a $1,000 bond award.

Dachshund Wins

Champion Del Akers El Capitan, a long haired Dachshund owned by B. K. Simpson of Novato, won "best of variety" at the Sunmaid Kennel Club show in Fresno Saturday and the Kern County Kennel Club show in Bakersfield Sunday, according to Helen Blair of Blairhaven Kennels, Novato, who handled the dog.

Driver Fined $193

Harry V. Geister Jr., 60, of 460 Canal Street, San Rafael, was fined $193 and placed on a year's probation Monday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested March 11 on Francisco Boulevard by San Rafael police.

San Diego was named for St. James of Alcala, Spain, seat of a great university. Mission San Diego de Alcala, first mission to be founded (1769), is near San Diego.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — Wed., April 6, 1966 — 25

SQUARE PLUG ON ROUND HOLE

Reggie, Bassett hound about town, sniffs a new flat-topped fire hydrant in Mill Valley while fireman Roy Bernard provides the yellow paint. Believed to be the first of this type in the county, two hydrants were purchased from M. Greenbeg's Sons, San Francisco, at $212 each. New hydrants have larger ports (water openings) to provide more force, also have ports on the side whereas the older steamer types, costing $181, have ports on top. The city plans about a dozen in commercial areas. (Independent-Journal photo)

Youth Corps Plan Asked For Marin

Marin County Housing Authority last night requested a summer neighborhood Youth Corps program in Marin City and Tiburon.

The authority commissioners also voted to spend $2,500 of county funds to tear down the portion of the Marin City Community Center which was damaged by a March 21 fire blamed on young malcontents.

The Youth Corps would employ 10 or 15 young people to do such work as cleanup and beautification at Hilarita Housing Project and stabilizing slopes behind high-rise apartment buildings in Marin City, said Donald O. Stutsman, executive director of the authority.

Commissioners authorized entering into a contract with the federal government for advance of $592,975 in federal funds for the proposed 36-unit project for housing the elderly in Santa Venetia. It is hoped work can start in September, said Stutsman.

Little Gem Construction Co.'s offer to sell two parcels of land in San Anselmo for an elderly housing project was declined as the land is shown for commercial development on the San Anselmo Master Plan.

Marin Teens' Combo Wins Glorious Battle

A Marin County teen-age rock 'n' roll group had its first big taste of success last night.

Butch Engler and the Styx were judged the best of about 300 other combos at a "Battle of the Bands" in the Cow Palace.

The prize was $1,000 and a chance to see their name on a pop record label.

The "band bash," sponsored by H. Liebes Stores, began Sunday and climaxed with the judging by radio disk-jockeys.

The local group is led by Butch Engle of Tamalpais Valley. Other members are Rick Morrison of Santa Venetia, Mike Pardee of San Anselmo, Happiness Smith of Mill Valley, and Bob Zamora of Berkeley.

Part of the first prize is a record contract which insures the group get at least one chance of a widespread hearing by teen-age fans. Combo members were today talking over the music they will record and which they hope will be a hit.

Proceeds of the band battle benefitted the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Leydecker Drafts Answers To Grand Jury Complaints

A five-page reply to the 1965 grand jury report prepared by Byron W. Leydecker, chairman of the county board of supervisors, was almost approved by fellow supervisors yesterday.

Itw as held up at request of Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofsen, who said he had read through it rapidly twice and found nothing wrong, but wanted more time to study it.

In the report, Leydecker took pains to point out that Supervisor Thomas T. Storer did not agree with the chairman's answer on the issue of hiring a county director of industrial developement.

In a supplemental report, the grand jury recommended that the hiring of John Martin Douglas as director of economic development be reconsidered, along with necessity for the position itself.

Supervisors voted this suggestion down, with Storer the only dissenter.

In his answer, Leydecker charged:

"In general this supplemental report contains factual errors, conclusions based on fact real errors, and recommendations unrelated to either facts or conclusions."

The chairman said the suggested changes in hiring practices in general will be discussed in a meeting with the County Personnel Commission on April 19.

On other topics in the study, Leydecker's answers included:

Supplemental texts—contrary to the grand jury's recommendation, the board of supervisors concluded it was better to locate the supplemental text library in the new county schools office in Corte Madera and transfer control from the county library to the schools office in the interest of "efficiency, space utilization, and service to schools."

Courthouse property — study by the City of San Rafael and county officials is underway. (The jury recommended that the city make up the difference if the county gets less than the original $1.4 million anticipated from the sale of the property.)

Nursing home sprinklers—An ordinance is under study on requiring installation of fire sprinkler systems in nursing homes of frame construction, as recommended by the jury.

Welfare — Supervisors are satisfied with County Administrator Alan Bruce's knowledge of welfare matters. (The jury urged that Bruce become more familiar with welfare administration and programs.)

Coroner — The board after a series of discussions decided not to take any action on changes in the coroner's office. (The jury recommended changes under two phases: Removal of public administrator duties from the coroner, and later, as county population warranted, development of a morgue with staff pathologists.)

Probation collections — Study is in progress on ways collections arising from probation cases can further be turned over to the county revenue officer. (The jury found that probation officers were spending time on collections that should be the responsibility of the revenue officer.)

Girls' wing at juvenile hall—The county's capital improvement program (not yet adopted by the board) anticipates replacement of the girls' wing at juvenile hall in 1967-68. Fire drills are held regulary. (The grand jury described the wing as over-crowded and a fire hazard.)

Consolidation of fire protection service — There is no method of testing consolidation of fire departments without taking the actual steps to consolidate, Leydecker said. He said the merits of the grand jury suggestion that cities and districts cooperate in testing combined fire protection effort "are obvious."

Sanitary district consolidation —The county plans a master plan study of sanitary services and the administrator and Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, meanwhile is encouraging efforts at consolidation.

Conflict of interest for county counsel's office—Leydecker said the jury questioning of conflict through the county counsel's representation of special district appear as a "non sequitur." Leydecker said the counsel is required by law to represent special districts and employment of private counsel by the district would cause unwarranted costs.

Local agency budget commission—Leydecker said this is an "interesting possibility" and will be studied as part of the county's proposals for the next legislative session in Sacramento. (The jury suggested a commission to review the budgets of special districts.)

Leydecker listed several other jury recommendations as being either carried out or under study.

Two Religious Scholars Will Join San Francisco Seminary Faculty

Two scholars, one from the University of Heidelberg and the other from Princeton Theological Seminary, will join the faculty of the San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, in September.

They are Rev. Dieter Georgi, named professor of New Testament, and Rev. E. David Willis, who will be an associate professor of historical theology.

Georgi holds a doctor's degree in theology from University of Heidelberg, where he now teaches. He also studied at the universities of Mainz, Gottingen, Marburg and Edinburgh.

A student of Hellenistic culture and history as it relates to the growth of Christianity, he is known among New Testament scholars for a recent book, "The Opponents of Paul in Second Corinthians," not yet translated into English.

He was ordained in 1955, and was visiting professor at Harvard Divinity School in 1964-65. He and his wife, Barbara, have three sons and a daughter. His wife is also ordained.

Willis received his doctor's degree from Harvard Divinity School in 1963. He is a Reformation scholar, and author of "Calvin's Catholic Christology," soon to be published, as well as numerous articles in professional journals.

He filled a pulpit in South Merrimack, N. H., in 1959-61, and has been interim minister at another New Hampshire church and assistant minister of Harvard Memorial Church.

He and his wife, Florence, have two sons and a daughter.

MILL VALLEY GOES BACK TO THE FARM

A miniature barnyard was opened today in Mill Valley at 85 Throckmorton Avenue as part of the Easter display sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Among the "livestock" are chickens, rabbits and ducklings.

The farm setting will be up through Easter Day, according to Granville L. Beedle, chamber secretary-manager.

Twenty-seven Girl Scouts from Troop 1644 are in charge of feeding the fowl and rabbits, and 16 girls from a Brownie troop headed by Mrs. Richard Parino take turns, dressed as rabbits, watering flowers which line the sidewalks in front of businesses.

County Sewer Survey Begun; Costs Shared

Work has begun on a county-wide sewer survey under a $81,000 contract recently authorized by supervisors, Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows announced today.

Contract with the San Francisco engineering firm of Brown and Caldwell was authorized March 15. Under the agreement, $40,000 will come from funds budgeted for the survey this year and $33,000 to be budgeted next year.

In addition, Bolinas Beach Public Utilities District, Bolinas Public Utilities District and the Stinson Beach County Water District will jointly put up $8,000.

The survey is expected to recommend the best means of sewage disposal in developed areas and areas of the county still to be developed.

Picnickers' Cars Clouted

Burglaries of three cars, two belonging to picnickers, were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Marshall Pike Gleiston, 220 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, told deputies he parked at Stinson Beach, went down to the beach for a picnic, and returned to find a $45 camera, a radio worth $45, and a spare tire and wheel had been taken from his vehicle's trunk. No forced entry was evident.

Guenther Husnagl, San Mateo, reported he was picnicking just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Samuel P. Taylor State Park and returned to find the ventilation wing of his car had been forced. Taken were a radio and camera.

Donald Ross of Petaluma told officers he, his wife, and a daughter, Phyllis, stopped at a restaurant in Alto and discovered about $200 worth of the daughter's clothing was missing from their car after eating.

Court Martial Date Is Set For Airman

General court martial of A 1c James O. Young on a first degree murder charge was set for May 9 today by Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin, commander of the Fourth Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Airman Young has been charged with the premeditated murder early Christmas morning of A/1c Robert M. Jannings after a drinking party in their barracks.

Maj. James E. Green, judge advocate at Travis Air Force Base, after a pre-court martial hearing recommended that the charge be reduced to unpremeditated murder. However, the judge advocate of the Fourth Air Force found the charge should be premeditated murder.

If found guilty, Airman Young could be sentenced to life imprisonment or death.

Administration Shifted At Tam

Duties of assistant principal and dean of boys at Tamalpais High School have been divided, Principal Robert H. Prather announced today.

Raymond J. Bell, who has held both jobs, will continue as assistant principal. Henry Marshall, formerly administrative assistant, has been named dean of boys.

Also, Mary Baker, formerly head of the girls' physical education department, has been named dean of girls, replacing Alice Dolan, who will be a full-time counselor.

Edward Chavez, who has been dean of student activities on a part-time basis, will be assigned to the job full time. James Hanretty, formerly counselor and government teacher, has been named dean of summer and adult schools.

Peace Officers Will Discuss Mentally Ill

Training of peace officers in recognizing and handling abnormal and mentally disturbed people will be discussed at a meeting of the Assn. of Peace Officers of Marin County at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Corte Madera Public Safety Building.

Mrs. Libby Wax of Sausalito, chairman of the education committee of the Marin Assn. of Mental Health, and Dr. Clyde Miller, director of Community Mental Health Services, will outline a proposal for a series of training sessions next month.

The objective of the training is to help policemen to recognize and understand various ways of dealing with disturbed people, Dr. Miller said.

"The first contact of a mentally ill or emotionally disturbed person often is with a police officer," he said.

Fairfax Shooting Is Ruled Accident

There is unlikely to be any criminal charge filed against an 83-year-old San Francisco man who reportedly accidentally shot a Fairfax teen-ager when he took aim at a blue jay in his back yard, Fairfax Police Chief James Orr said today.

Fredlof Anderson will, however, be cited for firing a gun within the city limits. The incident occurred at his summer home at 82 Hillside Drive Sunday. About a block away, Kenneth R. Zorn of 121 Meernaa Avenue felt a sharp pain in his arm. He was released from Marin Gneral Hospital after treatment for a gun shot wound.

"At this stage, it appears nothing more than an unfortunate accident," said Orr.

Underground Bill Passes First Test

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SACRAMENTO — A bill that would permit citizens to form an assessment district to put existing utility lines underground passed the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee yesterday and is headed for the Assembly floor.

"This should be of special interest to a county like Marin," said its author, Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa.

AB-135 would allow a group of 25 or more property owners to petition the city council or county supervisors for formation of an assessment district to convert overhead lines and poles.

Young said adequate safeguards exist for the halting of such a district if a majority of the property owners oppose.

Burglary Suspect Pleads Innocent

Gerald David Flowers, 21, pleaded innocent to three counts of burglary yesterday in Marin Superior Court and jury trial was scheduled Sept. 12.

He allegedly burgled two buildings of the Brant Club on Limantour Bay near Inverness on Feb. 16, and a building occupied by Edwin I. Powers near Tomales State Park on Feb. 10.

Richard Warren Becker Jr., 20, pleaded guilty March 28 to a joint complaint with Flowers charging a Limantour Bay break-in. Sentence is pending in Superior Court.

Both men reside at Spaletta Ranch 14 miles west of Inverness.

LIGHT MOMENT IN FLOOD

A flood relief worker in Grand Forks, N.D., takes a break on a slide in the yard of an abandoned farm house. The Red River flood moved north in the river valley today to Canada, forcing about 2,800 persons to leave three small towns in Manitoba. Officials in the U.S. hoped the flood in their area had reached its crest. Damage estimates were $9 million in North Dakota and $5 million in Minnesota. (UPI Telephoto)

Court Reverses Conspiracy Convictions Of Nazi Trio

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Excessive speech involves a lesser evil than does restrictions on its exercise," the District Court of Appeal ruled as it reversed the convictions of three American Nazi Party members.

Justice Macklin Fleming, who wrote the majority opinion Tuesday, said:

"Speech is free under the First Amendment, not so much because free speech is inherently good as because its suppression is inherently bad.

"In the American garden, we let 100 flowers bloom, knowing that among them may be skunk weed and thistle, dandelion and poison oak."

The case involved three of five Nazis convicted of charges growing out of a disturbance at a Jewish rally near the Shrine Auditorium in April 1963.

Clifford J. Huss, Leonard Holstein and Marvin Reeves were convicted of conspiracy and given sentences ranging from 10 months to one to three years in prison.

Although the conspiracy charges were dismissed Tuesday, the court upheld assault convictions against Huss and Holstein.

Justice Lester W. Roth dissented from the majority opinion.

Hub Children Poise To Stalk Those Eggs

San Anselmo children, from pre-school age to sixth grade, will scurry about San Anselmo's Memorial Park with eyes groundward Saturday morning, searching for Easter eggs in a hunt sponsored by the city park and recreation department and Lions Club.

The Easter egg hunt, beginning at 10 a.m. will offer prizes and treats for children competing in three age groups. The youngsters will be split into groups of five years and younger, those in grade one through three and those in grades four through six, according to Andrew J. Snyder Jr., director of Parks and Recreation.

New Charges In Hells Angel Shooting Fray

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Alvin Price, 21, who shot three members of the Hell's Angels motorcycle club when they invaded his home last week, has been charged with assault and battery and disturbing the peace in an incident before the gun battle.

Lloyd Riley, Sacramento County deputy district attorney, said yesterday the complaint against Price was signed by Mrs. Edward Rajotte, wife of one of the six Hell's Angels each charged with burglary and felonious assault after battling Price.

Price had told police that the six men came to his home after he had thrown a soft drink bottle from a car window and it landed near Mrs. Rajotte.

Price was released yesterday on $500 bail.

Board Delays Adoption Of Tract Schools Rule

Marin County supervisors yesterday delayed approval of a proposed ordinance to require developers to dedicate school sites at cost to school districts.

The board wanted details of a reversion clause worked out. Under the clause, the developer would have the option to buy the site back at cost if the school district made no use of it within five years.

The vote for delay was 4-1, with Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker urging approval of the ordinance with the reversion settled later as an amendment.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen charged that the ordinance was "an empty gesture," because it places the requirements only on developers of tracts of 400 units or more.

Kettenhofen said the developer could develop just short of 400 lots, change corporate entity, and continue with another batch of lots.

Other supervisors, however, thought the ordinance would have merit in Marin. It was made possible under state legislation suggested by William H. Kirk, former trustee of the Novato Unified School District.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney, who helped draft the bill, said the legislation was less than perfect but "the best we could do." He said legislators cut out a provision for in-lieu payments by developers of smaller tracts, which would have plugged the gap Kettenhofen cited.

The ordinance will go back to the planning commission for study of the reversionary clause.

The Marin County Board of supervisors also:

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Postponed several items, including discussion of a proposed super agency to administer seven county departments, proposed creation of a county department of community services, proposed reorganization of the human rights commission, state plans for expansion of Tamalpais State Park, and the county's intent to offer the Scott property, adjacent to the state park, for public sale.
2. Authorized an abatement suit against Frank D. Novak at 508 Wilson Avenue, Novato, to stop an alleged health hazard from faulty sewage disposal.

6. Approved a three-lot division asked by Ben Parker on Ridgewood Avenue in Homestead Valley. He had protested the requirement for high level improvement of Ridgewood, but agreed yesterday to the board's compromise of a 20-foot-wide grading requirement only.
7. Adopted a Jan. 18, 1967, deadline for property owners on San Pablo Avenue south of the Civic Center, seeking a change from residential to business and professional zone, to dedicate right of way.
8. Adopted a policy to delay action on rezoning requests in the Fairfax master plan study area until the master plan is completed.
9. Learned that County Administrator Alan Bruce will have a recommendation next week on a policy regulating insertions in county pay envelopes, arising from an insertion by the Marin County Employees Assn. criticizing personnel management.

Business Inventory Change, Not Repeal, Better Thing

The California Retailers Assn. has launched a campaign to repeal the business inventory tax.

Its argument is that California is placed at a disadvantage because other states, in their effort to attract new industries, have eliminated or reduced their taxes on business inventories.

From the standpoint of the retailers, the effort to repeal the inventory tax is understandable. But from the standpoint of taxpapers in general, the first question which must be answered is:

Where do we get the revenue to replace the loss from the business inventory tax? If the business inventory tax is repealed without compensating adjustment, the burden will fall on the already oppressed property owner.

In Marin County, business inventories account for only about 2 per cent of the total assessment roll. However, the percentage is larger in other counties. In Los Angeles, for example, business inventories comprise 13 per cent of the total assessed valuation. A sudden cutoff of that 13 per cent revenue would mean a sudden shift of the burden to other taxpayers.

Last year, the Unruh-Petris bill proposed an abolition of the business inventory tax and substitution of an increase in income and sales taxes.

Under such a setup, Marin County, which has the highest average income in the state, would stand to lose far more than it would gain. By paying more income taxes and sales taxes, Marinites would in effect be making up for the 13 per cent loss in business inventory tax in another county.

Therefore, unless a substitute revenue source can be found, the repeal of the business inventory tax could be detrimental to taxpayers as a whole.

Although an outright repeal of the business inventory tax may not be wholly desirable at the moment, there is at least one change that many assessors feel is justified. That is the present practice of valuing business inventories as of the first Monday in March.

This practice leads to inequities among the various businesses. Some types of business can cut down drastically on their stocks as the first of March approaches, then re-stock after the March appraisal. Others, like milliners, will have their heaviest inventories in March in preparation for the Easter season.

Appraising business inventories on an annual average instead of on the one day in March appears to be more equitable.

DEATH THROUGH ODORLESS FUMES

Automobile exhaust fumes entering a house through an air-conditioning system caused the death of a father and his son, 12, on Long Island last summer.

Through an oversight, the motor of the car had been left running in the garage adjoining the house.

Intake ducts of the central air conditioner, located just above the running car, sucked in the carbon monoxide fumes, and circulated them throughout the house.

While such a freak tragedy seldom happens, it is a pointed reminder that poisons can subtly find their way into our lives and cause serious damage.

Too much is at stake to run the risk of neglecting to guard yourself from serious physical or spiritual injury.

Be particularly careful to avoid the wily intrusion into your heart of selfish ideas that can be fatal to the spirit of man.

Seek always to reach out to others with the truth of Christ and you will steer clear of most hazards.

"Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. But rather be afraid of him who can destroy both soul and body in hell." (Matthew 10:28)

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Courts Barring Of Broadcasts Example Of News Management

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The trend toward "managed" news in state government is gaining momentum.

An example of this is the refusal of Governor Brown to put on special call for consideration of the Legislature the question of whether Rule 980, imposed by the state judicial council, should be delayed in its execution, or considered in committee. The rule bars television and radio from courtrooms, not only while court is in process, but also during recess periods.

Assemblyman George Willson, D-Huntington Park, heads an Assembly judiciary subcommittee, which has gone into an exhaustive study of the rule, even to the extent of taping a television account of a trial in southern California.

HOWEVER, the committee has not completed its work, which is being done at the direction of an Assembly resolution.

Meanwhile, the State Judicial Council has put the rule in effect, over riding the action of the Assembly, and thus, according to Willson and others, impairing the rights of citizens to gain information concerning government, and particularly, courts.

Assemblyman Willson is joined in his request for the item on special call by Laurence Drivon, district attorney of San Joaquin County and president of the California District Attorney's Assn.

"IN PROTECTING the accused rights to a fair trial," says Drivon, "Rule 980 cannot avoid curtailing the right of the freedom of the press."

Chapters of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic association with members nationwide, have sent resolutions to the governor urging delay in implementation of the rule and further consideration of the effects it will have before the arbitrary edict of the State Judicial Council is put into full effect.

It is obvious to anyone respecting the dignity of the courts that the state's magistrates cannot tolerate some kind of monkey show for television which would disrupt the even tenor of court activity.

On the other hand, it is also obvious that the courts, judges and judicial council cannot infringe on the right of the public to know and at the same time be aware of the right of the public under the constitution of the state.

IT MIGHT APPEAR that sponsors of the public right, such as Assemblyman Willson, and the advocates of managed news through the barring of recognized news media from the courtrooms, have reached an impasse on the subject.

There is, however, no matter of public concern, such as freedom of the press, which cannot be worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

This is what Willson wants to do, namely to guard the rights of the accused to a fair trial, maintain the rights of the people to know, and at the same time retain the dignity of the courts.

Grocery Price Hikes Labelled As Vicious

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Our fat horse of plenty is being whipped to death as it tears down the narrowing canyon. The boys aboard are stark staring blind for gold. They missed the warning sign. This road is not to be used, built in 1932; leads to a dangerous depression. Price boosting has become an uncontrollable whirlygig in many business of supply and demand.

It seems a lucrative fancy-free practice of some food mart supervisors to rubber stamp items and raise the price. Strangely the next day one can purchase some of these items at the old price. Some items remain at the boosted price.

There are some canned goods continue to rise. Powdered instant coffee—8 ounce size, makes a hike of 10 cents in a period of a few weeks. This simply does not make sense. The rubber stamp price manipulation certainly seems to be left in the hands of any Tommie, Dickie or Harry in the food mart business when it comes to fancy pricing.

In some communities the merchants seem to base prices on the wealthy and what they can bear. This vicious method hits the elderly on a meager income; also the every day Joe family man. This kind of thing forces them to buy second grade food stuffs off our bountiful table of plenty. The Food Administration is asleep at the switch when it comes to answering this vital question of price hikes.

How coy can our experts of economics get when they tell us the cost of living has only risen 3.5 per cent over a year or so ago. These near sighted bespectacled men of this sad science would be better off branding butterflies on the Sahara Desert.

We consumers haven't seen anything yet. Price hike chiseling is rampant. If not controlled it will crack the foundation of our so-called expanding economy.

Another Director Wants Law Change

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We have it happening again. Shades of Billy Dobbs, what would he say about his zoning ordinance being all wet. According to a statement by the new planning director we need another overhaul of our ordinances.

This happens every time that we get a new planning director. It is getting to the point that we property owners do not know where we stand on our property or our rights. We buy a piece of property with a certain use allowed by law, we get a new planning director and right away he wants to change these uses. This has happened too many times.

The only fair solution to this problem is to allow the property owner to do as he sees fit with his property as to the use it was zoned for at the time he purchased it. His investment is considerable as well as the taxes he pays on his property and its uses at the time that he bought it so leave well enough alone.

Don't penalize the property owner, after all he is the one that is paying the freight of running our fine county. If the zoning ordinance suited him at the time of his purchase and it evidently suited the planning director and the planning commission at that time, leave him be to develop it for what he bought it for. His life savings are in it and with all of these proposed changes of ordinances and interim ordinances it is to the point now that it is questionable as to whether or not it is advisable to own property in our beautiful Marin.

The question is what happens now? Is our investment to be protected, or will we be changed in use as time goes on from one planning director to another? May the former planning directors R. I. P.

Bennett Supported For Attorney General

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I may be a few days late in telling you that you wrote a very fine editorial on Lt. Gov. Anderson. I believe that the "Brown" machine appreciates nothing and steamrollers over everyone. I believe the Mr. Anderson acted just as quick as anyone would have in the Watts problem. I also agree with you and Mr. Bennett who is running for Attorney General that Mr. Tom Lynch, chief law enforcement officer, should have been criticized by the McCone Report.

I have been an Independent-Journal reader for 15 years and I know that your policy and my policy is to vote for the more responsible Republican leadership. However, Mr. William Bennett's "maverick" tactics deserve an endorsement over the other candidates for the AG office.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

CORRESPONDENT Anthony Carthew sends this story from Saigon to illustrate the difficulties American soldiers have in trying to understand the customs and reactions of native South Vietnamese. A husky South Carolina sergeant was haggling one morning with an 80-year-old Vietnamese woman over the purchase of a parrot in a cage. She kept assuring the sergeant, "Good bird! Lotta words." But soon the sergeant discovered the awful truth. The parrot couldn't speak one word of English. The obviously disappointed homesick sergeant walked off muttering, "A parrot who speaks nothing but Vietnamese ain't no good to me. How'm I gonna talk to a bird who don't speak English?"

Russian Party Congress Haunted By Fear Of An Unspoken Word

WASHINGTON — One unspoken word haunts the 23rd Soviet Communist Party Congress in Moscow.

But the news which is coming into view reveals that this one word is creating greater uncertainty, anxiety, even fear, among the delegates and visiting Communists from all over the world than any item on the agenda. That word is: Stalinism.

Unmentionable but pervasive. Would the Soviet leaders again condemn him heartily or praise him faintly? Would they begin to restore him or bury him totally? They didn't quite know what to do about it.

So they did a little of both. The effect is to plant new fears in the minds of the Russian people, new grievances among the increasingly bold Soviet intelligentsia and new difficulties in the way of the Communist parties in the Western world.

HERE IS what happened:

The official speakers never once praised Stalin personally, but "pridefully" referred to some of the deeds of the Stalin era.

The official speakers said there was no prospect that the methods of Stalin would be resumed, but they revealed that some of the terminology most closely associated with Stalinism will be restored.

The title of the 12-man Soviet Presidium, which runs the party and the country, is to be Politburo, as it was called under Stalin until 1952. The title of Leonid I. Brezhnev's position as First Secretary, which was the title Stalin bore from 1922 to 1934 when he was amassing his personal power over everything and everybody.

TO WESTERNERS these will seem like meaningless alterations, but to Communists, who don't want any part of Stalinism restored, even these obscure hints constitute a cloud of uncertain peril.

The official speakers gave stout assurance that the Soviet Communist Party is now secure against any return to the one-man rule of the Stalin or Khrushchev type. They put it in these words:

"The cult of personality (refers to both Stalin and Khrushchev), the breach of Leninist norms (refers to Stalin's destruction of loyal Communist comrades), the breach of socialist legality (refers to Stalin's terror and tyranny), everything that hindered our movement forward has been decisively rejected by the party and there will never be any return to the past."

With even this much of the congress proceedings emerging to the surface, some Soviet affairs specialists read this news as meaning that an entering wedge for tighter control over Soviet society is being readied and that a sharp intra-party struggle between Soviet "conservatives" who want more restrictions and Soviet "liberals" who want more freedom is in the making.

ALREADY A GROUP of 25 Soviet intellectuals dared to warn the Kremlin in a letter on the eve of the party congress that the slightest deviation from anti-Stalinism "will not be understood or accepted" by the Soviet people. They see the recent harsh jail sentences imposed on two famous Soviet writers as a step back toward Stalinism and they wait with unease what may follow the 23rd congress.

Britain Is Breaking Rhodesia Boycott

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Britain is breaking its own economic boycott against Rhodesia.

While Prime Minister Wilson is vigorously pressuring the U. S. and other countries to enforce tight sanctions against the defiant Ian Smith regime, British manufacturers were allowed to import 9,000 tons of high grade Rhodesian chrome ore in February. This supply is estimated sufficient to take care of British needs for some six months.

A Rhodesian mining official, in a letter to Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, caustically wrote, "This shipment is enough to last them until sanctions have crippled or destroyed the Rhodesian economy."

AT THE BEHEST of the Johnson administration, U. S. chrome users cut off all shipments of Rhodesia's high grade ore when Britain proclaimed its boycott last November. The Union Carbide Corp., with two mines in Rhodesia, is a leading U. S. chrome ore importer. It has abided strictly by the British boycott.

Details of the unpublicized British chrome ore deal are as follows:

Last November, after Rhodesia's break with Britain, the Wilson government banned the import of chrome ore. Two months later, Jan. 20, this sanction was expanded to include an export ban. The effect was to set up a double barrier, outlawing both imports and exports of Rhodesian chrome ore.

BUT ONE MONTH later, in February, the Norwegian freighter Bingo unloaded 9,000 tons of this high grade ore in the English port of Inningham.

The Wilson government issued an import license for the 9,000 tons of chrome ore.

When U. S. authorities asked questions about this, British officials contended the shipment was proper because it had been paid for Dec. 6 and shipped from Rhodesia prior to Jan. 20, the date of the export ban.

"This argument is spurious because it completely ignores the Nov. 11 date of the import ban," points out Gross. "This affair is succinctly summed up in the letter from the Rhodesian mining official, as follows, 'The true position is clearly that import controls were temporarily lifted to ease the position of British consumer embarrassed by their inability to obtain Rhodesian chrome ore.'"

The U. S. government, in its strategic stockpile, has 8.7 million tons of low grade chrome ore.

BRITAIN'S INCREASING trade with communist-ruled Cuba is proving costly to U. S. farmers and businessmen. A graphic instance is the molasses industry.

Albert Teeter Jr., vice president of Industrial Molasses Corp., Minneapolis, Minn., in a letter to congressional leaders charges that large-scale British purchases of Cuban molasses threaten U. S. producers with a $30 million annual loss. Already, domestic molasses prices have been depressed by more than $13 a ton.

"The Russians have flatly refused to take Cuban molasses," says Teeter. "We have embargoed it, and the only other larger importer is Britain. If they would cooperate in our embargo against Cuba, as we are cooperating in Britain's embargo against Rhodesia, they would again use free world molasses as they previously did, and there would be no problem of world surplus."

SINCE CASTRO seized power, Britain has increased its Cuban molasses imports by more than 1,000 per cent. This has been a windfall for the Communist dictator — pouring more than $36 million into his coffers.

Cuban molasses is mostly consumed in England, displacing previous imports from Pakistan, Kenya and other countries. As a result, molasses from these sources is now dumped in the U. S.

When Summer Arrives In April It Can Be A Cruel Month At Beach

In April, summer, in the form of fog and squares, comes to West Marin. It is the cruelest month.

All winter the sun shines, except when it rains of course. The weather is balmy, in a chilly sort of way. The hills turn green. The deer come down from the hills. The septic tanks overflow as the water table rises.

And most of the houses are empty, as their owners, miserable in their circumstances, work in San Francisco.

There are exceptions. On freezing days there were a few hardy souls in wet suits below Brighton cliff on surfboards. And the clam diggers would drive over Mount Tamalpais at weird hours to dig in the sand or break up rocks.

A FEW MAY have been poisoned, even though January had an R in it.

The hikers are indomitable, but they become fewer and fewer each year. Driving cars makes legs atrophy.

Then, just at the end of March, there was a heat spell. A heat spell in most of the Bay Area generally means fog on the coast, and sure enough, the fog rolled in, along with a chilly wind and big breakers.

The fog was followed closely by Easter vacation, and during the past weekend Highway 1 was jammed with cars, coming from the sunny bay to the foggy coast.

STINSON BEACH now has a restaurant featuring live music, and seems well on its way to becoming another Newport Beach in a decade or so.

The lights on the sand spit are pretty, but the traffic is miserable. And the beaches, places in winter for long, quiet contemplative walks, are mobbed.

Tomales is far enough north that it has not been badly hit. At a recent pancake breakfast there, not a single politician showed up, even.

Someday, there will be an expressway to Point Reyes Station, and all the traffic will pour in that way, perhaps leaving Stinson Beach at the south and Tomales at the north as backwaters. But now the traffic uses Highway 1.

MAYBE IT is treasonous to tell about the winters of West Marin. People who live there, including the commuters who catch the single 6:30 a.m. bus each day, seldom spread the word about why they stay there all winter.

But the contrast with summer is too great to go unnoticed. Someone in Mill Valley has suggested toll gates for that community. There is a toll gate at Stinson Beach State Park. But it has little effect on the rest of the community when summer comes.

ART BUCHWALD

Would You Want Your Sister To Marry A Jolly Green Giant?

WASHINGTON — When the flying saucers were sighted over Ann Arbor, Mich., a few weeks ago, the first reaction from one of the residents was, "Dammit, there goes the neighborhood."

It has been reliably reported that occupants of all flying saucers are little green men and this raises a serious problem. Do we want our children to go to school with little green children?

What happens to real estate values when the little green people start moving in on the block? Will the green people be responsible for a rise in the crime rate? These questions have to be answered before there is a mass invasion of them and we have a situation that will make Watts look like a tea party.

I SPOKE to the president of the NAAGP (the National Assn. for the Advancement of Green People) the other day.

He said, "We are very concerned about the treatment that the little green people will get when they arrive in the United States. I'm sure that the first few will be cordially received, but as more and more flying saucers arrive, we will have a serious social problem."

"But the Jolly Green Giant has been well received in America," I said.

"Yes, but he's in show business. What we're concerned with is the average green person who has no special skills and is more or less a drag on society."

"WHAT DO YOU THINK will be the main problem?"

"For one thing, the green people will not be able to read or write English—at least, we don't think they will. So we'll have to make allowances for that. For another, it will be very hard for them to get jobs. Oh, they could probably get work as maids or cooks or waiters, but when it comes to competing for a white collar job, I don't believe a green person is going to get it."

"Why is that?"

"Most people are nervous about green people. They feel superior to them and at the same time they're afraid of them. It might have something to do with sex."

"What does the NAAGP plan to do about it?"

"We'll go through the courts first. If that doesn't work, we'll have mass demonstrations. The green people have to have the same rights as other people—not only because they're green, but because they're so small."

I SPOKE to a member of a White Citizens Council who was absolutely opposed to giving gren people any rights.

"We're just getting used to black people. We're not going to have green people forced down our throats," he said. "We have a right to choose whom we want to associate with, whom we want to eat with, and whom we want our kids to go to school with. Everyone knows that green people are inferior."

"But the Jolly Green Giant is not inferior."

"I'd like to ask you one question, mister. Would you want your sister. . .?"

"Please, don't say it."

"I thought so. You left-wing liberals are all alike."

This, according to Joe Gutierrez, faculty adviser, is a competitive sport testing abilities of team members to solve problems in each field of high school mathematics.

San Ramon was named for St. Raymond of the Order of Mercy.

Polio Coin Thefts Lead to Jail Term

Nichols, a transient ranch hand, took more than $60 in coins from March of Dimes cards and containers in the break-in.

San Rafael High Students Have New Library, Rooms

Story and Photos
By ELLEN BRY

At San Rafael High School, the sound of the hammer and saw is as prevalent as the sound of student voices.

"Old Main," once the primary building of the school, with its auditorium, is now a gutted shell as workmen take the building down to its wooden and steel bones to add counseling and administration offices and business education rooms. The auditorium now is a gloomy skeleton, expected by fall to be completely refurbished and to seat about 600 students.

The completely new library and its new furnishings placed on sound deadening carpet may be a model for high schools.

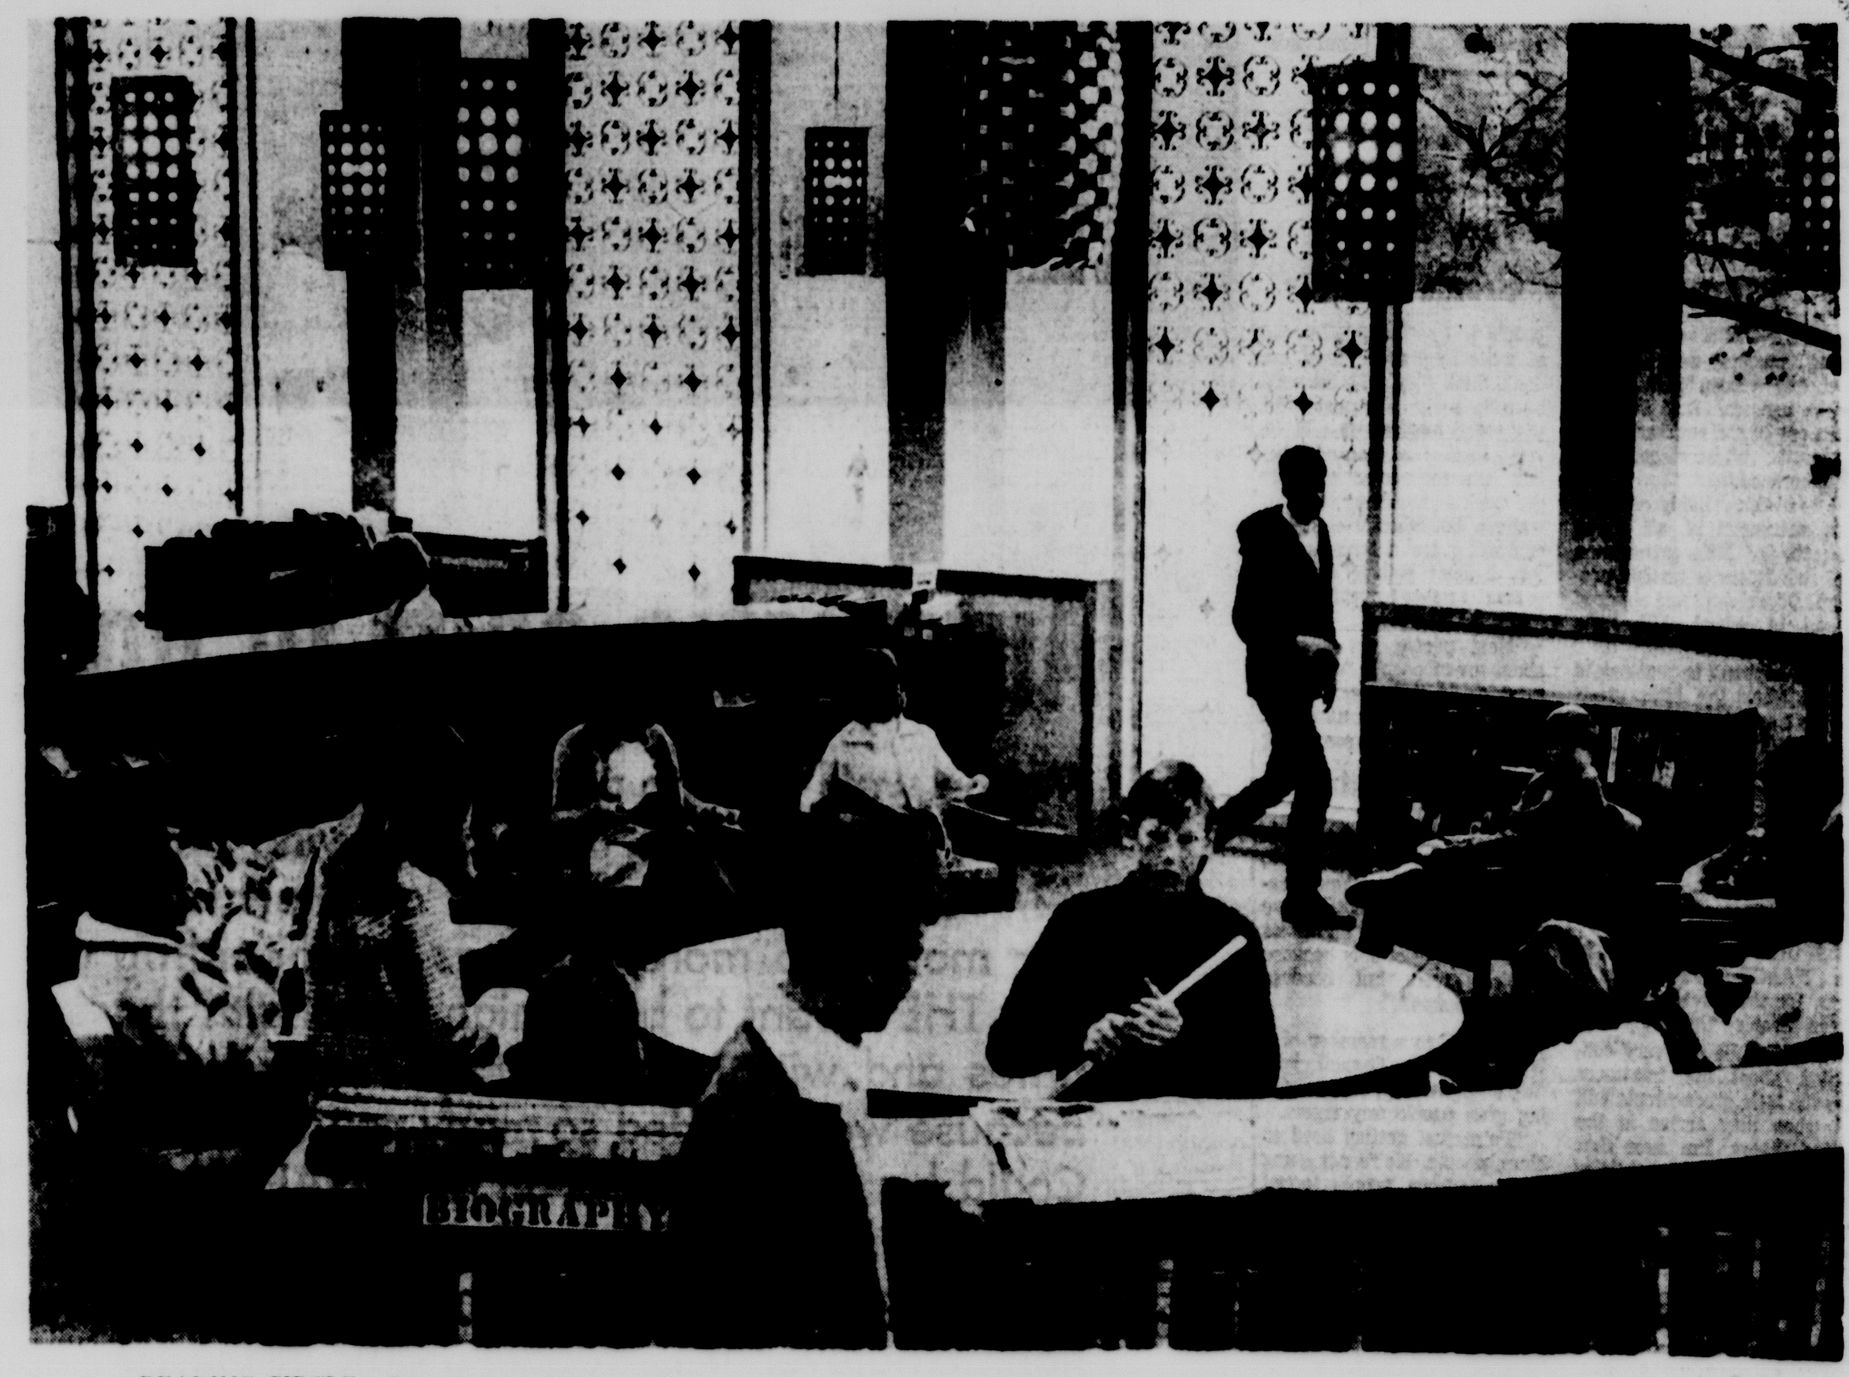
Reading areas are broken up by asymmetrically placed book shelves. In the center of the large library is a "reading circle" with comfortable chairs and encircling shelves for magazines.

At the edges of the library room are small typing rooms, a classroom to be used for instructing students in the use of the library, teachers study room, periodical file room.

The shiny newness of the library is equaled by that of the language laboratory. Individual student headphones and a master control panel operated by the instructor allow him to tune on student's recitation or speak to one or all of them through his microphone. Students may be instructed on six different levels in the one room, by filling six channels with different languages or stages of difficulty of a language.

Classrooms in a new wing include two connecting rooms for teaching mentally retarded students. The room includes kitchen equipment found useful for teaching its use and for teaching words and numbers.



READING CIRCLE—Cases for magazines encircle this area in the center of the bright, new library, which is carpeted to cut sound bounce.

FOLDING WALL—In the new wing at the high school, a folding wall has been installed between two classrooms so that, when opened, one large lecture room is available. The wall is shown half-folded between the rooms.

SCIENCE LABORATORY — New tables have been installed with gas jets (foreground) which will allow student experiments. A student checks a piece of lamb kidney through a stereoscope, a type of microscope, learning how it functions so the information can be related to how human kidneys work.

Husband To Face Trial In Killing

J. D. Jones, 30, returned from Atascadero State Hospital on March 1 after being declared sane and able to stand trial, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Superior Court for a murder trial by jury Aug. 8.

Jones, of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, allegedly battered his ex-wife, Mary L. Jones, to death with a hammer Oct. 20, 1964, following an argument over custody of their son, 3-year-old James Davis Jones Jr.

Trial originally was scheduled Jan. 26, 1965, but was delayed with sanity hearings. Psychiatrists testified that Jones became "clinically psychotic" and told them he "talked with God."

He was ordered to Atascadero for an indeterminate period after findings that he was incapable of conducting his defense in trial.

Center Directors Approve Budget

Stinson Beach Community Center board members adopted a fiscal 1967 budget last night of $4,000.

Current year's budget is $3,500, reported President Ralph W. Sigmund. Budget increase is due to moneys needed for the new memorial patio installed at the center.

The board, which meets quarterly, will next meet on June 6.

Sinatra Puzzled By Mexico Rule

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Frank Sinatra was "puzzled and upset" today by the Mexican government's decision to bar him from the country because of his latest movie, "Marriage On the Rocks."

"Someone in Mexico has lost his sense of humor," Sinatra was quoted as saying.

The Mexican Interior (Police) Ministry said the film, a comedy about a couple getting a "quickie" divorce in a Mexican border town, was "clearly offensive and injurious to Mexico."

Red Men's Visit Set

Frank Strosnider of Inglewood, great sachem of the Great Council of California, Improved Order of Red Men, will pay an official visitation to Tamal Tribe 288 of San Rafael, Friday at 8 p.m. at the Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael.

County Heeds Tiburon Plea On Traffic

Marin County supervisors yesterday, in response to a petition and several letters from Strawberry residents, called for a resolution asking the State Division of Highways to study the pedestrian hazard at the four-way intersection of Tiburon Boulevard and Bay Vista, Strawberry and Belvedere drives.

Robert Scholz, 8, was killed by a car while crossing the boulevard March 22.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss said he would be in favor of trying to get a pedestrian overpass at the intersection.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he wanted assurance an overpass would be the correct solution. He said representatives of the State Division of Highways and the Highway Patrol had been invited to a meeting of the Strawberry School Parent-Teachers Assn. next Tuesday night to discuss the problem.

Contra Costan Hurt In Crash

A San Pablo man was injured Monday when he apparently fell asleep at the wheel of his car and it ran into a guard rail on South Novato Boulevard at Highway 101.

Ronald Joseph Caserez, 24, was reported in good condition today with a broken knee in Kaiser Foundation Hospital, Oakland, where he was taken from Novato General Hospital.

The patrol said he was driving southeast about 2 a.m. when his car went off the road.

Stassen Sues Ballot Aides

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, filed suit yesterday asking damages from a firm he said failed to collect enough signatures to qualify him for the 1964 Republican California presidential primary.

His $56,950 suit in San Francisco Superior Court is against Joseph A. Robinson and Co., a firm that specializes in gathering enough valid signatures to qualify candidates or issues for the ballot.

Stassen, 58, now a Philadelphia lawyer, said he paid the firm $19,100.

The secretary of state's office in 1964 said his petition fell 4,000 signatures short of the 13,702 needed to reach the primary ballot.

Two Trials Slated For Mill Valley Man

Jury trials for John Organ Lem, 19, of Mill Valley, charged with burglary and attempted robbery, and with possession of morphine, were scheduled for Aug. 8 and Aug. 22 in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Lem, alias John Organ Crawford, will stand the earlier trial on five counts of burglary over a period from June 16, 1965, to Sept. 7, 1965, and attempted robbery at Greenbrae Lanes, 101 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, also on Sept. 7, 1965.

The Aug. 22 date is for trial for alleged possession of morphine at Marin General Hospital Jan. 17.

Hub's Pupils Shine In Statewide Tests

San Anselmo School District trustees last night were told that third, fifth and eight grade pupils in the district scored consistently above the statewide average in state achievement and intelligence tests last October.

Rulon K. Cook, district administrative assistant, said average district scores on the achievement test were 78th percentile for the third grade, 87th percentile for the fifth grade and 64th percentile for the eighth grade. The state average was about the 50th percentile, he said.

On the intelligence test, he said, third grade students scored 113, fifth grade students 112 and eighth grade students scored 105. All of these scores were higher than the statewide average, he said.

San Anselmo School District trustees also:

1. Reassigned two principals for the next school year. Barry Connell, now principal of Wade Thomas and Yolansdale Schools, will be principal of Hidden Valley School. Donald Shaw, now principal of Isabel Cook School, will be principal of the newly constructed Red Hill School. Both schools will have all seventh and eighth grade enrollments.

2. Accepted the following resignations: Francis M. Sink, district psychologist; Julia Wigell, resource teacher at Sleepy Hollow School; John Sydor, social studies teacher at Isabel Cook School, and Barbara Lehmann, language arts teacher at Isabel Cook School.

3. Hired Kay Yager as resource teacher at Sleepy Hollow School.

4. Passed a resolution of intention to sell $97,000 in bonds for addition of five classrooms, a library, administrative office, teacher room and material center at Hidden Valley School.

5. Appointed Jack Graves, principal of Brookside School, as principal of summer school at Isabel Cook School from June 22 to July 22.

State Joins Man's Fight For His Son

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California has joined Walnut Creek photographer Harold W. Painter in his fight against Iowa for custody of his 7-year-old son.

A "friend of the court" brief is being prepared for filing with the Iowa Supreme Court before next Monday, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said yesterday.

Painter's fight is "an absolutely unique case and the first time the state (of California) has ever intervened in a child custody matter in another state," Lynch said.

If the Iowa court grants a rehearing in the case, Deputy Atty. Gen. Elizabeth Palmer will argue that Painter, 34, should have custody of his son, Mark.

In February, the Iowa court awarded custody to Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bannister, Ames, Iowa, parents of Mark's deceased mother.

Water District Ready To Use New Offices

Arnold Heise was re-elected chairman of the North Marin County Water Board last night.

William Jonas and Frank Baccaglio were sworn into office, having been reappointed by the board of supervisors when they had no opposition in an election.

Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager, reported the new office building on Atherton Avenue should be completed in about a week. The board set April 16 for moving to the new office.

Page Construction Co. exercised its option to purchase the present water district office for $85,000 and gave the district a check for 10 per cent of the purchase price. The balance is due on May 16.

The North Marin County Water District Board also:

1. Authorized a joint study with the Marin Municipal Water District on costs and how to go into the sewer business in areas where there is no sewer or sanitary district.

2. Denied a claim of $11,000 filed by Mrs. Allison Fairweather, Jane A. Fairweather and Sandra Phillips for injuries allegedly suffered last October when they fell into a ditch being constructed by MGM Construction Co. for the Bahia Development at H Lane.

3. Heard a complaint from Jack Burgi of Indian Valley Nursery that he had not been asked to submit a bid on plans he had drawn for landscaping the new office building. The contract was given to Oberg Brothers of Petaluma at a figure lower than Burgi's estimate.

Family Seeks Owner Of Dog That Bit Boy

A Greenbrae family was searching today for the owner of a large long-haired dog named "Lassie" that bit their 10-year-old son at the Paradise Shopping Center in Corte Madera yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Peter P. Harris of 34 Corte Morado said the brownish tan dog was being led on a leash by a girl in blue shorts about the same age as her son, Randy. It broke away from the girl, ran toward the boy and bit him on the left heel.

The dog was "so big it absolutely overwhelmed him," said Mrs. Harris, and the girl "collected her dog and got away" before Randy could find out who she was. He learned the animal's name when the young mistress called to it.

Unless the dog is found and determined to have had rabies shots, the youngster will have to undergo the painful Pasteur series of rabies shots within a few days.

Strips of meat are dried in the sun for two days to make tasso, a favorite Haitian dish.

One Charge Dropped In Bolinas Burglary

Felony complaint against Hans Hagge, charged jointly with Ronald Frank DuFay, 32, and Daniel Lee Hagge, 18, in two burglaries, was dismissed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for insufficient evidence.

The men, all from Santa Rosa, were accused of burglaries of the homes of Donald Baker and Lawrence E. Wilson in Bolinas, on March 3. DuFay and Daniel Hagge still face both counts. The latter, however, has been referred to Marin juvenile court.

Giants Have Fun With Those Rich Dodger Boys

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)—San Francisco's Giants bid adieu to their Arizona spring training today after finally finding the range against the Los Angeles Dodgers with some big belting by Jim Hart, Tom Haller and Hal Lanier.

Each showed disrespect for the high salaried Dodger pitching duo, Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax, who were making their first game appearances of the spring yesterday.

Hart belted a three-run homer off loser Drysdale in the first inning and also a bases-empty round tripper off Johnny Podres in the seventh, accounting for four of the runs in the 7-2 victory.

Haller, the first batter faced by Koufax, walloped a homer over the right field fence. Sandy retired the next two batters and then walked off the field, followed by six of the eight other Dodgers.

When someone reminded him of the situation, he grinned and went back to pitch some more.

Second baseman Lanier, hitting in the leadoff position, collected four hits in five trips, boosting his spring average to .333. His production included three doubles, one off each of the Dodger hurlers. He hadn't doubled before in a 1966 spring game.

Drysdale and Koufax, who teamed for their big holdout this season, each gave up one homer, one double and three singles in three innings worked.

The Giants came to Casa Grande today with 30 players and are expected to leave for Palm Springs with 28, the limit allowable on opening day, April 12.

Cut on Tuesday were right-handed pitcher Joe Overton and first baseman-outfielder Bob Burda. They report to Phoenix, the Pacific Coast League farm club the Giants met today.

Gaylord Perry, continued to turn in strong spring performances, pitched his fifth victory without defeat. Perry, who has developed a fast slider, gave up six hits in six innings including a homer by Wes Parker with Willie Davis on base via a single.

Lindy McDaniel and Frank Linzy finished up for the Giants holding the Dodgers scoreless.

San Francisco now posts a 13-10 exhibition game record with Los Angeles 8-14 including 5-3 and 8-4 triumphs over the Giants in their first two meetings.

Lanier knocked in one run yesterday boosting his production to 13, tied with Willie Mays who returned to the lineup with one hit in four trips to the plate. Mays has been nursing a sore wrist since Thursday.

Hart's two homers doubled his spring output and now he's tied in that category with Capt. Willie.

Tough Question For Bob Shaw Recalls Giant Fielding Woes

HANLEY

PHOENIX—Bob Shaw smiled sardonically when asked if his first exhibition game of 1966 reminded him of a certain game last April in Candlestick Park. Shaw's smile, almost a sneer, left no doubt that he had been reminded of last April's Candlestick game.

It was a game with the Mets, still under the magical spell of Casey Stengel because this was early in the season and the Ol' Perfesser wouldn't retire until much later in the year. Casey's men won the first game of a four-game series with the Giants in spectacular fashion.

In the series opener on Friday night, April 23, the Mets went into the ninth trailing 8-4. A four-run rally tied it 8-8 and then the Mets won it in the 11th, 9-8.

THE SECOND game of the series was the one in which Shaw became involved. He came to Jack Sanford's relief in the eighth inning and got the final out to preserve a 4-4 tie. Then the Giants got him two runs in the home eighth and it looked like Shaw would have his first win of the year. Instead he got his first defeat and this is how it happened:

An error, intentional walk and bunt loaded the bags on Shaw with two away. A rookie named Danny Napoleon stepped up as a pinch hitter for Roy McMillan. Napoleon lofted a long fly to the right field fence. But Jay Alou never caught the ball. It fell in for a triple and the Mets won 7-6.

NOW, IN his first 1966 appearance the other day in Phoenix Municipal Stadium against the Dodgers, Shaw pitched two shutout innings. But it momentarily appeared that his second inning might become a facsimile of last April's session with the Mets.

Jim Marshall lofted a fly to the right field fence. Alou once again didn't catch the ball. This time it fell in for a double.

HOWEVER, MARSHALL was the leadoff man of the inning and he never got farther than second base. Maury Wills tried to bunt him to third and Shaw struck out Wills. And Shaw disposed of Ron Fairly and Willie Davis on soft flies.

"Marshall's double did remind me of Napoleon's triple," said Shaw.

What are a pitcher's thoughts concerning an outfielder who puts him in a hole by not catching fly balls that should be caught?

"WHAT IN the world are you trying to do to me?" Shaw parried. "Here I've just been in camp a couple of days and already I'm being setup for a pitcher-outfielder beef. The season hasn't even started yet. Can't we work up to it with some easy questions? Haven't you any easy questions?"

The reporter had none, explaining readers aren't interested in answers to easy questions.

Nicklaus Trying For 2nd Straight

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio belter who will be trying for an unprecedented second straight Masters victory, scoffs at claims he has the golfing plum all wrapped up.

"That's a lot of baloney," Nicklaus said before a final tune-up for tomorrow's start of the 72-hole grind over the Augusta National course.

"A lot of golfers can win this thing," the 26-year-old Golden Bear said. "A couple of bad breaks can ruin you. Most of the time this tournament is lost, not won.

"The player that doesn't make any mistakes is the player that wins."

He predicted that a score of 278 would be good enough to take the title.

That is seven strokes above the record set last year by Nicklaus, who fired rounds of 67-71-64-69 in one of golf's most dazzling exhibitions.

"I'm not playing as well now as I was a year ago," Nicklaus said. "But I think I'm playing pretty good, and if I play good in this tournament I can win it.

"I won't be because of my drives, as a lot of people are saying now. I won it in 1963 and 1965 with my irons. I had more under-par scores on the par 3 holes than I did on the par 5s, and hitting the ball a long ways doesn't help you on the par 3s."

Nicklaus conceded the hilly, 6,980-yard course is long enough to eliminate some of the 104-man field.

He doesn't think, however, that Doug Sanders, hottest player on the 1966 tour with three 1965 triumphs, is out of the running because he isn't a long driver.

"Doug hits the ball as far as Gary Player and Player's record speaks for itself," said Nicklaus. "If you look in the records you'll find most of the winners of the Masters weren't long hitters."

Nicklaus singled out Arnold Palmer and Player — the other members of the Big Three that has won every Masters crown since 1960 — as his leading rivals. As an afterthought, he tossed in the names of Sanders and Bruce Devlin, the lanky Australian who collected $67,000 on the tour last year without winning a tournament.

Player, the 1961 titlist, said he is "hitting the ball reasonably well although I haven't scored real good."

The South African said he is trying to stay as relaxed as possible "so the tension doesn't get to me."

Palmer, who won the Masters in 1958, 1960, 1962 and 1964, has been working on his approaches and putting.

"My short game is as bad as it has been for quite a while," he said.

Little chance is given an outsider to crack the Big Three's domination of the Masters, but Ken Venturi said it would come as no surprise to him if a dark horse won.

"It might shake them up a little if there was an upset," said Venturi. He added it is tough for him to beat Nicklaus "because I have to go around things that he just flies the ball over. But I have been very pleased with my game this year."

Many others who won fame years ago at the Masters are back for another try, including Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Byron Nelson and Gene Sarazen.

The amateurs are headed by Bob Murphy, University of Florida student who is the reigning amateur champion, and Deane Beaman, two-time amateur titlist.

Dietzel Signs South Carolina Coaching Pact

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Paul Dietzel signed a contract today to become athletic director and head football coach at the University of South Carolina at a reported $35,000 a year.

Dietzel, 41, resigned as head coach at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point to accept the dual role at South Carolina.

He succeeds Marvin Bass, who quit to become coach and general manager of Montreal of the Continental Football League. Bass made about $15,000 at South Carolina as head football coach and athletic director.

The blond, handsome Dietzel, sporting a South Carolina Gamecock tie, signed the contract in the presence of trustees of the university immediately prior to holding a news conference.

Wisconsin Offers Deal To The N.L.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin agreed today to concede the Braves to Atlanta if the National League agrees to provide an expansion team for the 1967 season.

But the offer hinged on league agreement to an expansion plan before next Tuesday — the day the Braves are scheduled to open their first season in Atlanta.

If the league refuses the city a replacement team, the state asked for a court order returning the Braves to Milwaukee this season.

The dramatic offer came from Willard S. Stafford, special counsel for Wisconsin, during closing arguments at the six-week-old trial of the state's antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League.

The defense was scheduled to give its argument later in the day.

Stafford asked Milwaukee County Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller to retain jurisdiction in the case until an expansion plan is provided.

The lawyer made no reference to expansion in 1966, an earlier Wisconsin request that was spurned by the league in December.

Stafford asked that further proceedings be held to guarantee a fair and equitable stocking formula if the new franchise is granted.

Stafford asked the court to find the defendants guilty of violating Wisconsin's antitrust laws and said each of the 10 National League teams should be fined $10,000.

He said the league should be forced to meet state demands through the contempt powers of the court and said baseball was already in contempt for not furnishing an expansion plan earlier that would include Milwaukee.

PREP BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Redwood Reaches Finals

Redwood High School, behind the three-hit pitching of sophomore Mike Terry, blanked El Cerrito 2-0 yesterday to gain a berth in today's championship game of the Pacific High School Invitational Baseball Tournament in San Leandro.

Redwood today will be going against Encinal, 5-4 victor over Novato High School in yesterday's other semi-final game. That title game today was scheduled for 2:30 p.m., with Novato taking on El Cerrito for third place in an earlier game.

Terry, a righthander, struck out four and walked one through the seven-inning game.

The Giants again got off to a first inning lead when shortstop Ken Johnson, the second player to bat, smashed a solo homer over the left centerfield fence. Then in the third, it was Johnson again who scored the Redwood run.

He got on base on an error, then stole second, and reached third on a passed ball. With Steve LeBeck on first, Redwood called for a double steal. When LeBeck broke for second to draw the throw, the fleet Johnson scored. LeBeck made it to second, and then to third when nobody covered the bag.

Redwood rightfielder Russ Smith had two hits in four trips to the plate, and Kevin Wilson, Jack Fitzhenry and Terry each added a safety.

Second baseman Jap Capell made the fielding gem of the day in the fourth inning when he stabbed a hard grounder and threw out his man.

Cleophus Jones' ninth inning homer broke a 4-4 deadlock which had stood since the fifth, giving Encinal its victory over the Novato Hornets.

After the first inning, in which the Hornets scored all of their runs, it was a case of too much Wayne Jones, the southpaw Encinal hurler who fanned 17 and walked 5 while scattering 5 hits during his nine-inning stint.

Encinal scored 3 runs in the first inning, two of which were unearned, and picked up another one in the fifth.

With two aboard on walks in the first frame, Hornet Gary Dinkel blasted a double to left field, scoring both runs, then came around to score on a throwing error. Rightfielder Tom Owens singled home the other Hornet run.

The Novato club still had a shot at it after Jones had belted his towering round-triper high over the left field wall, but Wayne seemed to grow stronger as he went along. Mixing a fast ball with a sharp-breaking curve he struck out the final three batters, spoiling Marin's chances of having its two teams clash in today's finals.

Losing pitcher Wayne Jones went the distance for the Hornets, was tagged for seven hits, fanned one and walked just three.

Schneider Will Take Over As Tam Basketball Coach

Bernie Schneider, former varsity basketball coach at Marin Catholic High School and now the jayvee coach at Redwood, will replace Ed Chavez as Tamalpais High School varsity cage coach next season.

Chavez, who has been a teacher at Tam since 1959, moves up to a newly created administrative post at the Mill Valley high school, that of director of student activities. Chavez will also continue as director of recreation at Tam.

The change is effective for the next fall semester, said Robert H. Prather, Tamalpais High School principal. Chavez is currently teaching American government at Tam, and Schneider will be an English teacher there.

Schneider, 28, is a 1959 graduate of University of San Francisco. After serving in the Army for six months active duty, he was hired as a teacher at Marin Catholic High School where he took over as varsity and Class C basketball coach.

BERNIE SCHNEIDER
Headed for Tam

During his four years at Marin Catholic, from 1960 to 1964, his varsity teams won 59 games and lost 33. His best year was the 1962-63 season when the Wildcats had an 18-6 record. He has the distinction of never having a losing season as a varsity coach.

He joined the staff at Redwood High in 1964 and coached Class C and junior varsity basketball the past two seasons, winning the "C" title one of the two years. He also had two Class C champion teams at Marin Catholic. Redwood and Tam are both Tamalpais Union High School District schools.

"I'm really looking forward to coaching at Tam," said Bernie, who lives in San Francisco with his wife, Joan, three sons and two daughters. Prather likewise was happy in announcing the new appointment. "We are very pleased to have him," said Prather. "He has a very good squad to work with."

Tam's varsity team this past season was a big surprise to most prep basketball followers. The Indians were in contention for the title all season, narrowly losing to Marin Athletic League champion Drake, 44-41, in the last week.

Hawks Hope To Even Things With Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers, accustomed to the role of underdog after waging a successful season-long fight with Boston, attempts to upset the favored Celtics and square the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division finals tonight at the Boston Garden.

"We're used to the position of underdog and are going to respond the way we did during the regular season," promised Philadelphia Coach Dolph Schayes.

"You might say we were an underdog for our first 70 games," the NBA Coach-of-the-Year added. "Then we finally moved in front, winning the next 10 and the division championship."

The Celtics, whose nine-year reign as Eastern champions was ended by the margin of one game, were installed a slight favorite in the second game on the basis of a convincing 115-96 victory at Philadelphia in the best-of-seven series opener Sunday, and the traditional home court advantage.

In the Western Division, the Los Angeles Lakers resume their bid for a sweep of their series with the St. Louis Hawks in St. Louis tonight. The Lakers rolled to a 2-0 lead by capturing the first two games on their home court.

The Hawks' player-coach, Richie Guerin, was listed as a doubtful starter because of a leg injury.

The Celtics were confident, but not cocky, as they returned home for the second game with Philadelphia. Although assured of plenty of support from a sell-out crowd of 13,909, they expect a much tougher game than in Philadelphia.

"They didn't have a good game," Boston Capt. Bill Russell said. "A few were weakened by flu and the team may have been stale after a long layoff. We also caught them by surprise. They're going to be a lot tougher the rest of the way."

Schayes belittled any home court advantage for Boston, noting that the 76ers won 33 games away from Philadelphia during the regular season. Two of those victories were in Boston, helping the 76ers to a 6-4 season edge.

"We're a good road club," Schayes said. "We won a couple here during the season and know we can do it. We just have to play our game. We got a lot of bad basketball out of our systems the other day. Our movement was way off.

"However, we worked hard in Philadelphia Monday. We got good and sharp. Now things look good. You'll see a different team against the Celtics now."

Schayes reported all hands healthy. The Celtics nursed various injuries, including twisted ankles and bruises, but all worked out yesterday and promised to be ready.

Seals Only 1 Point From Playoffs

Seattle leads the San Francisco Seals by only a point as they battle for the fourth playoff berth in the hectic Western Hockey League chase. Each team has three games to play.

The Seals closed to within a point of the Totems last night with a 4-0 blank job over Vancouver. Newly-acquired goalie Joe Daley blocked 33 shots on the way to the shutout.

Daley was acquired from Memphis after regular San Francisco goalie Jack McCartan injured his knee. Daley has been a gem in the goal with the exception of Sunday's 5-3 Seal loss to Seattle.

San Francisco led 3-1 halfway through that one but Daley took a puck in the throat and understandably was not in top form the rest of the way.

Gerry Odrowski led San Francisco with two goals yesterday while Wayne Connelly and coach Charlie Burns also tallied.

San Francisco plays Portland tonight and then has two weekend games left with last-place Los Angeles. Seattle meets second place Victoria Friday and must face front-running Portland Saturday and sunday.

In other action tonight, Los Angeles is at Victoria.

Vegas Odds Switch To Dodgers

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale bowled over the baseball oddsmakers without throwing a pitch. All they have to do now is catch up with the National League hitters.

San Francisco sabotaged the Los Angeles aces' spring debut yesterday, roughing them up in a 7-2 exhibition victory over the Dodgers. Koufax and Drysdale were clipped for six runs and 10 hits in their first competitive appearances since they ended a 32-day salary holdout last Saturday.

The Giants salvaged the last game of a three-game spring series with the world champions while Las Vegas gambling experts were installing the Dodgers as 2½-1 favorites to repeat in the National League. San Francisco had been the best bet, at the same odds, before the Dodgers finally signed their pitching mainstays for a reported total of $245,000.

In yesterday's other exhibition play, the Chicago White Sox edged Cincinnati 2-1 on Gene Freese's run-scoring single in the 17th inning, the New York Mets blasted Detroit 11-2, Baltimore outslugged Boston 11-6, Atlanta nipped Pittsburgh 5-4, Cleveland trimmed the Chicago Cubs 8-5 and Philadelphia blanked St. Louis 2-0.

The White Sox, who lead the exhibition standings with a 19-6 mark, rallied with two out in the 17th against Cincinnati, breaking the 1-1 tie on a walk to pitcher Bruce Howard, Tom McCraw's single and Freese's hit. The game consumed 4 hours, 21 minutes and 41 players saw action.

Home runs by Dick Stuart, Ken Boyer, Ron Hunt and Jerry Grote led the Mets' barrage against the Tigers. Curt Blefary hit two homers, for a total of four in two days, as the Orioles pounded the Red Sox.

Denis Menke doubled in the seventh inning and scored the deciding run for the Braves on Woody Woodward's single. Tony Martinez sparked the Indians' 12-hit attack against the Cubs with three singles. Ray Herbert and rookie Grant Jackson scattered nine hits in the Phillies' victory over St. Louis.

TWO-ENGINED RACER FOR INDY

Al Stein (left) of Orinda, designer and owner of this double-engined racer, talks to driver Bill Cheesbourg, veteran Indianapolis 500 mile race driver. Stein hopes to get the car in the Indy race next month. The four-wheel drive system is powered by two souped-up six-cylinder Porsche engines that deliver about 215 horsepower each. Stein believes the car is capable of speeds up to 190 miles an hour on the straightaway. (AP Wirephoto)

Cassius Clay Faces A 30-Day Jail Term

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cassius Clay, who boasts of the money he makes as heavyweight boxing champion, has until 5:30 p.m. tomorrow to come up with $26,250 or go to jail for 30 days.

He was found in contempt of court yesterday after he failed to show up in court and make at least an installment on the alimony he owes his pretty ex-wife, Sonji.

At first Clay's lawyer had told Sonji's attorneys he had two checks for part of the money Clay owes—$22,500 in fees and $2,500 for two months' alimony.

One of the checks was written on Islam Temple 2 in Chicago.

"We are timorous of acceptinf such a check," said Lawrence Hoffman, one of Sonji's lawyers.

"You bet we are," said Leonard McMillen, the other. "Cassius already bounced one on her for $1,250. We're not taking any checks signed by Omar Khayyam or somebody."

So they went to court. Clay did not.

"It's not the money," said Circuit Judge Harold Spaet. "He didn't show up for this hearing. That is the contemptuous part. If he had come in with only a $5,000 check I would not have issued the order."

Two deputy sheriffs were already on the road with an arrest warrant when Clay's lawyer worked out a compromise with the judge and Sonji's lawyers.

The compromise gives Clay until 5:30 p.m. tomorrow to pay $26,250—$22,500 for her lawyers, $1,000 for the expense of two hearings that Clay did not show up, $2,500 to cover the first two months alimony and $250 for Sonji's expenses in getting to the hearing.

Clay's lawyer said Clay would get the money.

Clay said two months ago that he makes enough money to buy six jet planes. Although this was deemed a bit of an exaggeration, the court record showed he made $450,000 in 1965.

However, the money he made in his last two title defenses—against Floyd Patterson in Las Vegas and against George Chuvalo in Canada—is tied up in litigation.

Sonji, who still wears Clay's wedding ring, was asked if she would be glad to see Clay in jail.

"Well, it's his own doing. But I might visit him there. Take him some candy or something."

Clay was unavailable.

'Slats' Gill Of OSU Dies

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — It wasn't easy to play basketball for Slats Gill.

"He had such high standards," said Paul Valenti, who played for him, became his assistant, and finally succeeded Gill, who died yesterday after 44 years at Oregon State University. He was 64. (Valenti is a former Tamalpais High School star athlete.)

"Yet the ones who disliked the discipline at first became his staunchest supporters. They learned that the principles he set could carry over into the years after college, and then they knew Slats had just been trying to get them started," said Hal Laman, former sports writer and longtime friend of Gill.

Gill was christened Amory T. Gill, but became Slats to everyone while a skinny young basketball player in Salem, Ore., where he was born.

He was a standout player for Oregon State, became the freshman coach and then head coach for 36 years. He moved up to athletic director two years ago. His teams ran up a record of 599-392, but while he became one of the most respected coaches, he was denied the thing he wanted most: a national championship.

Several times his teams came close. Perhaps the closest was in 1955 when Bill Russell and his University of San Francisco teammates edged Oregon State 57-56 in the western regionals. Oregon State missed a shot that would have turned the tables in the last seven seconds.

San Francisco went on to defeat two other opponents easily and won the national crown.

"We won, and you would have too," wired a San Francisco sports writer who saw all the games.

A past president of the National Basketball Coaches Association, Gill was a keen technician of the game.

But his players remember something else he taught them—that after the pain and discipline of practice finally comes a joy and a pride in competition.

"Competition to him was a way of life. He was always a gentleman whether it was competition in basketball, golf, or recruiting, but he always was fierce about it," said Laman.

Gill could adapt, but would not until convinced he should. That was why he clung to the two-handed, between-the-knees method of foul-shooting long after others abandoned it.

It was not until 1959 that an Oregon State player finally was allowed to shoot a free throw in any other way.

"I just had to come to it," Gill said with a tinge of regret. "It got so that none of the players coming from high school even knew what the underhand style was, and they could do better with one hand."

"What we remember most is the high standard he set for himself and those who played for him," says Valenti. "Oregon State and athletics have lost a great man, and I've lost a dear friend."

Some Vets Get Axe In Roster Cuts

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a busy cutting day as major league clubs continued to trim their rosters to reach the 28-man limit by the opening of the baseball season, and several veterans felt the axe.

The Cincinnati Reds delivered the hardest blow against veterans yesterday by sending three of them to the minors and asking waivers on another—pitcher Roger Craig.

Craig was placed on waivers for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

The 35-year-old right-hander previously played with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the New York Mets. He was 1-4 with the Reds last season.

Sent to Buffalo on a 24-hour recall basis were pitchers Jim Duffalo and Dom Zanni. Outfielder Charley James, a member of the 1964 world champion St. Louis Cardinals, was sent to the Reds' minor league camp for reassignment.

Southpaw relief pitcher Bill Pleis, a five-year Minnesota veteran, was sent to the Twins' minor league training base for reassignment as was infielder Frank Quilici, who joined the Twins in mid-season last year and wound up as their regular second baseman in the World Series.

Another veteran sent down was New York Met catcher Chris Cannizzaro, like Craig an original member of the team. He was traded to Richmond for outfielder Don Dillard and an undisclosed amount of cash. Dillar then was sent to the Mets' minor league camp for reassignment.

Marin 'Cats Lose, 6-3

Marin Catholic's baseball team lost a non-league decision to Wilson High of San Francisco, 6-3, yesterday on the Wildcats' diamond in Kentfield.

Failing to score during the first four innings, the 'Cats trailed by four runs going into the fifth. Their hopes flickered momentarily when catcher John Komo doubled home two runs, but after neither team tallied in the sixth, Wilson assembled a 2-run uprising in the final frame while the Wildcats seventh inning rally was stopped with just one run scored, that one also driven in by Komo who sparked the Marin squad's hitting attack with 3 safeties in four trips to the plate.

Ron Maloney, second baseman, went 2 for 2 as the 'Cats outhit the visiting city boys, 9-6, but whereas the Wilson nine made just one error, the Marin team committed 6.

Now sporting a 4-6 overall record and a 1-0 Marin Athletic League mark, the 'Cats will host Polytechnic of San Francisco, tomorrow, 3:30 p.m.

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) — Red Smith and Vince Scully received the National Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association's 1965 national awards last night.

Smith, sports columnist for the New York Herald-Tribune, had won the award four times previously. It was the first National NSSA award for Scully, who broadcasts for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Jim Murray, sports columnist for the Los Angeles Times accepted the award for Scully, who was not able to attend the annual awards ceremony at Catawba College.

The association also presented plaques to the top sportscaster and sportswriter from 41 states.

About 350 persons attended the awards dinner which followed a late afternoon reception given by Gov. Dan Moore.

Bud Collins, tennis writer for the Boston Globe, received the Martini & Rossi award for writing about a sportsman's sport. He was presented the award by last year's winner, Will Grimsley, sports writer for The Associated Press.

A $100,000 Pinch Hitter

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle might play when the New York Yankees open the 1966 baseball season — as a pinch hitter.

The $100,000 star outfielder has completely recovered from January surgery for the removal of a bone chip in his shoulder as far as batting is concerned, but it's a different story when it comes to throwing.

"Everything has come along well except for the throwing," Mantle said yesterday. "I can hit from both sides of the plate, but I can only throw the ball about 100 feet. I can't get the right arm back . . . so I can't throw well enough to play."

"I can't play him if he can't throw," said Yankee Manager Johnny Keane. Rookie Roy White would open the season in center field, Keane added.

Process Of Elimination: Here's Vote For The Giants

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody has repeated as pennant winner in the National League since the Milwaukee Braves in 1957-58. It has become sort of a tradition, like opening the season in Cincinnati.

Things look dark for the Los Angeles Dodgers an not just because they won last year. Even if the sun did peek through the smog when Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale finally signed, they missed a lot of work. If Koufax wins 26 and Drysdale wins 23 again this year, they should abolish spring training.

Cincinnati couldn't win with Frank Robinson so why should they do better without him. The Braves couldn't make it in chilly Milwaukee with six men hitting 20 homers. The air will be balmy in Atlanta, but they still need pitching.

Pittsburgh closed like gangbusters and still finished third. They have the same team back for another try. The Philadelphia Phillies are going through their annual spring housecleaning after the winter deals. Gene Mauch still is looking for more pitching and juggling that outfield.

Having disposed of five contenders and after eliminating St. Louis, Chicago, Houston and New York as also-rans, that brings us to the San Francisco Giants. This is known as the process of elimination.

This could be the year the Giants finally get together and live up to their potential. With Lindy McDaniel to help Frank Linzy in the bullpen and Orlando Cepeda back to put his shoulder to the wheel, the Giants present a strong lineup.

Most of all, the Giants have Willie Mays, the outstanding player in all baseball. Mays says he will take a day off now and then, but he'll be in there for about 150 of the 162 games.

Herman Franks' main problem is pitching. He will have to get by with ordinary shortstop work. The rest of the line-up is loaded. If Cepeda ever comes back to his old form, that power of Mays, Willie McCovey, Jim Hart, Jesus Alou and Cepeda could blow the top off the league.

Here's the way it looks from here (Please don't mail me a copy in October. I'll remember):

1. San Francisco
2. Cincinnati
3. Atlanta
4. Los Angeles
5. Pittsburgh
6. Philadelphia
7. St. Louis
8. Chicago
9. Houston
10. New York

If the Giants' pitching folds and the shortstop hole proves too much of a handicap, the Reds look like the next best bet to win the pennant.

Don Heffner has approached his first big league managing job with the zeal of an evangelist. He convinced Pete Rose, the All-Star second baseman, to move to third base to make room for his buddy, Tommy Helms. Deron Johnson is making the switch from third to the outfield.

Jim O'Toole must come back strong and Milt Pappas must turn out to be a big winner if the Reds are to make up for the loss of Frank Robinson's power. They got Jim Maloney in line just in time.

Bobby Bragan has power to burn at Atlanta and he may turn up enough pitching to go all the way. That line-up of Hank Aaron, Eddie Mathews, Joe Torre, Mack Jones, Rico Carty and friends is enough to give a pitcher the shakes.

The Dodgers can not be overlooked with that $240,000 pitching pair. They just skinned through last year with a 13-game winning streak but they have Tommy Davis back even if he is limping. You can't expect another year like 1965 from Lou Johnson.

Pittsburgh's hopes hang on Vern Law and the ability of Harry Walker to find enough pitching to back him up. The Pirates have a strong, thin front line with little behind them. But Roberto Clemente, Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon can give anyboly trouble.

Bill White and Dick Groat should give the Phils a lift but Mauch still has to come up with pitching behind Jim Bunning and Chris Short.

St. Louis traded away most of its punch in Kenny Boyer and White. The Cards are trying to fill in with rookies and count on Alex Johnson to hit a ton. Red Schoendienst does have pitching and lots of it, a factor that could move him up in the more spacious acres of the new ball park.

Leo Durocher will make plenty of noise and Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Billy Williams will hit the homers. But the Cubs still are a second division club.

Houston's youngsters are beginning to jell. Much is expected of rookie shortstop Sonny Jackson. The Mets have improved in the infield and outfield but have no catcher and no pitching behind Jack Fisher, a 24-game loser.

42-Round All-Star Ring Card In S.F.

A boxing program composed of 42-rounds will be offered by Abe Acquistapace's Coast Counties Enterprises April 14 in Civic Auditorium, San Francisco.

Headlining the all-star show will be Charley Shipes and Henry Aldrich, in a 12-rounder. Shipes' California welterweight championship will be at stake.

Considered one of the best boxers in the country at 147 pounds, Shipes, of Oakland, may eventually get a chance at a world title. Aldrich, who makes his home in San Jose, is considered one of the best of the younger crop of stars on the West Coast.

Luis Molina, San Jose's favorite, will tackle Don Hicks, San Francisco prospect, in a 10 rounder. This will be one of Molina's rare appearances outsied of San Jose. Hicks, who attends City College, of San Francisco, is a stablemate of Jimmy Lester, No. 5 ranked middleweight contender. Hicks is undefeated in his last 23 fights.

Molina has fought 'em all at his weight. His willingness to trade punches has endeared him to boxing fans.

Another 10 brings together Toluco Lopez, veteran Mexican feather-weight, and Pete Gonzales, a San Jose boy who is managed by Sid Flaherty.

The third 10 has Bobby Scanlon fighting Andy Gonzales of Los Angeles. Scanlon now is being handled by Flaherty, who feels he has some fights left in him. Scanlon was granted a license at the last meeting of the commission.

The show is being backed by Warehouse Union 860 and Teamsters Local 85. One dollar from each ticket sold will be turned over to the Dominican Sisters Scholarship Fund and Mt. St. Joseph's School for Girls.

Prices for the all-star program April 14 are $3, $5 and $6.

Tickets can be reserved and purchased at 472 Ellis Street and 312 Leavenworth Street, San Francisco.

Motorcycle 'Poker Run' At Novato

The Marin County Motorcycle Assn. is sponsoring a "Poker Run" on Easter Sunday, starting at 10 a.m., begining and ending at the Hill Top Inn, Novato.

It will be a timed, non-competitive road event, covering 100 miles, according to Lucile S. Horton, publicist for the group, who compared it to a rally for sports cars. Riders are given instructions to get to various check points, with speed having no bearing in the event, said the club spokesman.

At each of five check points, the riders will draw a playing card, and winners with best poker hands will win trophies.

The club is inviting all motorcycle riders, the only qualification being membership to the American Motorcycle Assn. Cost of the run is $1:50 for each entrant.

SANDERS WANTS MASTERS MOST OF ALL

By MILTON RICHMAN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) —Easy come, easy go Doug Sanders has suffered a dozen serious afflictions in his time, ranging from a cracked neck to a heart murmur, but he has never been bothered by an ulcer or any noticeable palpitation of the pocketbook.

He never will be either. Not the way he lives, not the way he plays and not the way he thinks.

Right now, the amiable 32-year-old Georgian is making money hand over nine iron and everyone is trying to corner him for his newly found secret, which happens to be one he has always really had.

"I'm not playing any different," he laughs. "All I'm doing is getting my backside a little more inside the cash."

Winner of three tournaments so far this year and deprived of a possible fourth when he was looking the other way and neglected to sign his scorecard at Pensacola, Fla., Sanders already has earned $60,234 on the tour in little more than three months and at least half that amount in addition from his varied side interests.

The money doesn't impress him that much, first because he has generally made enough, anyway, and second because he spends it sometimes twice as fast as he makes it.

"I've always had pretty good taste," said Sanders, whipping some 300-yarders straight down the practice alley with a beat-up driver in preparation for tomorrow's start of the Masters. "Win or lose, my tastes haven't changed that much. I've always done what I wanted to do, where I wanted and when I wanted.

"Naturally, I like to come close to 60-, 70-, and 80-thousand the past few years. Anyway, Uncle Sam will be coming around on April 15. He'll take care of most of it." more more more

What Sanders really wants now is to win the Masters because even though he has won 16 championships during his eight years on the PGA tour, he has yet to capture his first major golf title.

"Winning this one would mean more to me than possibly anyone else in the world," he said, signalling for his caddie to come on in. "That's because of all the things I endorse. I think I represent something like 10 or 12 different companies. Heck, I was just made assistant to the president of an insurance company not so long ago."

"I teach the president how to play golf," he quipped.

It has been said that no one on the entire tour lives better or faster than the colorful, uninhibited Sanders, who has earned $350,000 in official money alone since he turned pro. He doesn't deny the allegation but he doesn't particularly support it, either.

"I simply do things out in the open," he said. "I don't know what the others do and I'm not saying they really do anything, but I don't try to conceal anything. I like the opposite sex and I think that's normal. About drinking, well. . .I enjoy a sociable drink. It helps my nerves. I was on the wagon for a while last year and then I took a couple of drinks for my birthday in July. Then I laid off again and had a few on New Year's Eve. I don't think it hurts that much."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Here Is An Exception To Rules About Playing The Longest Suit

In most notrump hands it is sound play to develop the longest suit in the combined hands.

Don't follow this rule blindly.

There are exceptions to just about every rule in bridge.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

South took the king of hearts and led a diamond to try a finesse with dummy's nine.

East won with the ten and returned a heart.

Declarer held off but won the third heart trick in dummy.

IN A BIND

South then cashed the ace of diamonds and gave up a diamond. East returned a spade, and South's position was hopeless.

If South put up the ace of spades and led to dummy's queen of clubs he could run the diamonds but would never get to his hand for the ace and king of clubs.

South had to try a spade finesse at once, whereupon West took the queen of spades and a heart to defeat the contract.

TACKLES WRONG SUIT

South got himself into this hopeless position by tackling the wrong suit.

He should win the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts, cash the queen of clubs and lead the jack of spades for a finesse.

West wins with the queen of spades and leads another heart.

South must win at once with the king since a hold-up would allow West to lead a diamond and thus develop two diamond tricks to defeat the contract.

After taking the king of hearts, South cashes the top clubs and gives East his club trick.

East leads a heart, and West takes two hearts.

Then, however, South gets to dummy with the ace of diamonds to lead the ten of spades.

The second spade finesse works, and South gets two spades, two hearts, one diamond, and four clubs, just enough for the contract.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ J 10 6
♥ A 7 4
♦ A J 9 6 4 2
♣ Q

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have 12 points in high cards and 2 points for the singleton.

It would not be a crime to open with one diamond, but most experts would not do so. The singleton queen is not worth 2 points as a high card and also 2 points as a singleton.

The jack of spades is another doubtful value.

You would be glad to open the bidding with the ace-queen of diamonds and a singleton jack of clubs, or if your long suit were a major.

Community Antenna Television Firm Takes Northgate Offices

New headquarters for TeleVue Systems, Inc. will be opened in Northgate Industrial Park about April 14. The community antenna television firm, now located on Joseph Court, San Rafael, will occupy 3,300 square feet in the Capitol Insulation Co. building at 148 Mitchell Boulevard.

Tele-Vue has laced many miles of cables throughout Corte Madera, Larkspur, Terra Linda, Santa Venetia, Lucas Valley and Petaluma, and is expected to enter soon into the Sun Valley area of San Rafael. Currently there are about 2,000 subscribers in this territory who receive the benefit of clear reception on 10 channels originating from Oakland, Sacramento, Stockton, Salinas, San Jose and San Francisco.

Programs are brought into neighborhoods with difficult reception problems by means of strategically located master antenna complexes, and then relayed to individual subscriber homes over the company's cables installed on existing telephone poles. Tele-Vue entered Marin in 1964 and has been rapidly expanding its services.

Lease negotiations were handled by Arthur McIntosh of Dohemann and Co.

WELLS W. RASMUSSEN of San Rafael has taken over management of Morris Plan's office in the Northgate Shopping Center which opened last year. He joined the company in 1959 after six years of prior business experience and has been in almost every phase of Morris Plan activitie. He was elected an assistant vice president the first of this year and recently has been manager of the loan-contract department at the downtown San Francisco office.

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective strength showed up as a mixed stock market closed today in livelier trading.

The rally faltered early today as it entered its fifth session and stocks turned irregular after an early rise.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.5 million shares compared with 10.56 million yesterday.

Prices were up on balance at the start and the ticker tape ran late briefly. Prices softened as trading slowed.

American Telephone abandoned its initial rise of half a point.

Fractional losses were taken by General Motors, U.S. Steel, Jersey Standard and other Blue Chips.

Northwest Airlines lost half a dozen points. KLM and Motorola lost more than 3. Down more than 2 were Zenith, National Air Lines and Continental Airlines.

Off about a point were Raytheon, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, New York Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, United Air Lines, Comsat, Delta Airlines, Magnavox and Admiral.

INCOME TAX FACTS

When Estimated Tax Reports Are Needed

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

You are required to file a Federal declaration of estimated tax for 1966 if you can reasonably expect gross income over:

1. $10,000 for a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

2. $5,000 for other single individuals;

3. $5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint declaration;

4. $5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint declaration, and the combined income of both husband and wife can reasonable be expected to exceed $10,000; OR if you can reasonably expect to receive more than $200 from sources other than wages subject to withholding; AND the total tax due on the estimate is $40 or more.

P. J. Wikel

In other words, if the estimated tax payments amount to less than $10 per quarter, you are not required to file an estimate.

Any tax paid on a separate declaration may be used to pay the tax due on a joint final return; likewise, any tax paid on a joint declaration may be used to pay the tax due on separate final returns.

Your estimate and one-quarter of the tax is due on April 15, 1966. Payments are due on June 15th and Sept. 15, 1966, and Jan. 16, 1967. On any of these due dates you can file an amended estimate and change the amount of tax you are paying.

Natomas Earnings Go Up By $1.4 Million

SAN FRANCISCO — Natomas Co. has announced its combined net income for the year ending Dec. 31, including earnings from operations, investments and the company's share of the undistributed earnings of its steamship interests, increased to $5,136,776, or $1.62 per share on the 3,176,635 shares outstanding at yearend.

Comparable figures for 1964 were $3,711,088 and $1.17 per share on the same number of shares outstanding.

Credit Buying Slowup Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board reports a slowdown in the rate at which American consumers are buying on installment credit. This was good news for officials worried about inflation.

Consumer installment credit grew $537 million in February. The smallest increase since November 1964. The slower rate of rise was particularly noticeable in personal loans and for consumer goods other than automobiles.

Total consumer credit stood at $84.6 billion at the end of February, including $67.1 billion on the installment basis.
